Scapegrace Black Gin

Scapegrace Black Gin is the world's first naturally black gin. The kicker? When mixed with tonic and/or citrus, Scapegrace Black goes from noir to light lavender. Perfect for innovative cocktails and certainly a conversation starter. Made with 12 botanicals, "nature's wild apostles," and water, torn from the earth 80 years after it was hurled down on New Zealand's Southern Alps, forward, which allows the natural hint of pepper. The exciting addition of three layers of citrus allows a subtle complexity that is still Juniper forward.

Babich Wines

Babich Wines are made in the best of the best New Zealand winemaking regions and are highly sippable. The Sauvignon Blancs available in the US make a great addition to any holiday meal, with the crisp acidity cutting through rich fall and winter flavors, and make the perfect gift for the wine lover who's looking to try something new. Need a hostess gift for a holiday party? Babich's Sauv Blancs are quicrowd-pleaserpleaser. MSRP $14-25

Vesta Chocolates Set

Brought to you by bipoc husband and wife team Roger Rodriguez & Julia Choi-Rodriguez, Vesta is a bean-to-bonbon craft chocolate factory and café where the chocolate is first made from organic cacao beans, transformed into bonbons, baked goods, spreads, bars, and more. They felt that there was a gap between small batch craft chocolate making and everyday consumption. That's why they decided to combine forces to create a unique artisanal chocolate-making house where French techniques meet the true definition of chocolate in Latin America where cacao originates.
