

RAINWATER COLLECTION

CONCRETE ONG JARS

Rainwater collection can be an important part of modern landscape design and can conserve hundreds of gallons of water from a single rainfall. Big Grass offers beautiful and unique Thai Ong water storage jars that are handmade using traditional brick forms and dense concrete that prevents evaporation. Complete with a galvanized lid for customized down spout penetration. Use directly for landscape watering or integrate into a larger household water system.

The jars can be stained and sealed to complement your landscape or garden environment, and come in two sizes; 48" h x 48" w (425 gallons) and 37" h x 47" w (225 gallons). Both feature hose faucet fittings and drain plugs.

RAINWATER COLLECTORS CONCRETE ONG JARS

Rainwater collection jars available in two sizes:
225 gallons and 425 gallons.

Attractive alternative to unsightly plastic collection tanks--no need to construct expensive fencing or vegetation screen.

Use them in the front yard!

Cost competitive to plastic collection vessels that will break down from ultra-violet light in only a few short years.

Their graceful form is a beautiful addition to a variety of landscape styles.

Can easily be custom stained or characterized to complement site requirements, or left as smooth unstained dove-gray concrete.

Durable concrete hand-made in Thailand, using a traditional brick form.

Come complete with galvanized metal top that can be fitted to downspouts.

Use a simple mosquito net screen if used without top or for filtering leaf debris.

Decorative hard-wood tops available.

Complete with 1/2" pvc fitting for standard hose bib for landscape watering.

Lower 1/2" pvc fitting for diversion to larger household purification system or draining.
