Sunburn = No Go!

It's never a good idea to do any procedure on a client with a sunburn or actively tanning their face.

When a client has a visible tan or a sunburn we can't accurately read their Undertones or Overtones. When we can't get a clear read on that we could end up picking the wrong color.

Doing brows on a client with a tan and a sunburn can also Ash out our pigments.

Always ask your client if they've been tanning or have experienced a sunburn recently.

It's a good idea to ask these questions when booking clients especially now that winter is coming to an end with warm weather approaching. And let's face it this summer people REALLY want to enjoy their summer out and about!

Stay Safe and Happy Tattooing!
