If you invested your money in a new iPhone 4 and it fell and broke, repairs may be expensive. The alternative to it: Protect it!
I got my iPhone 4 the day it was released, June 24, 2010. There were NO cases for it, so I searched the web and found BALLISTIC®, www.goballisticcase.com.

They just launched the Ballistic® HC (Hard Core) case for the iPhone 4. This is a rugged, but stylish case, that as they say, is Designed to Survive Life! It offers an impressive four layers of durable protection, making it the most technically advanced rugged case on the market. It is a much better and safer option, than the gel or rubber covers commonly available on the market. Its four layers consist of an inner rubber that protects the phone's finish and drop/shock, a rigid structural frame, an outer shock absorption rubber, and a removable outer silicone rubber shock absorption layer with connector plug/seals. The outer gel skin layer is interchangeable and other great features are its front facing inward holster and built-in screen protector.

This is no ordinary case to prevent scratches from falls. It is an extraordinary case that presents repairs because of a fall. With this case you will not be afraid that you might drop your new iPhone 4.

If you prefer a pouch, they also have the Ballistic Universal Sport Rugged Pouch, which as its name says, is a rugged pouch made from a tough exterior material. It opens and closes easily with Velcro and has an extremely durable belt clip.

On www.goballisticcase.com you can purchase the case or the pouch, and see other device cases they have. Ballistic was created 6 years ago, when the owner's phone fell, cracking its screen. He believed there had to be a way to offer consumers a high level of protection in a case that still looked good. They began designing private label holsters and belt clips that simply would not break and made millions of OEM branded holsters and belt clips. Today, the Ballistic HC (Hard Core) case provides the most advanced degree of drop protection currently on the market.

After I tried the Ballistic HC case for my iPhone 4, "I will always be a Ballistic Man no matter what OTTER companies do!"
