

Head, Shoulders, Knees and Toes

YLF has been conceived by natural goodness for the modern man in a modern world to provide a no fuss product that is boundless with essentials like Rosewood, Argan and Kawakawa. It has a masculine nose and will get the job done, exclamation mark. It's also a pragmatic grooming essential because you can use it to wash, shave, shampoo and scrub. Its efficiency is derived from cleansing coconut and vegetable extracts with marine collagen as well as the already mentioned essentials plus vitamin E and other oils and minerals. YLF also contains the ester of Mexican natural waxes jojoba for balance and conditioning that leaves skin hydrated and healthy. Another feature ingredient is Kawakawa, or New Zealand Pepper Tree, which was used by Maori to treat cuts and wounds. It was even used to alleviate toothache. In this unique composition, the native is great as a cleansing, calming body wash. Now you can deliver so much goodness with one pump, for your head to your toes and everywhere in between.

triumphanddisaster.com

Bottoms up

They're undoubtedly one of the things we take for granted, but light bulbs weren't always so simple to use as they are now. In fact these light-emitting creations were often put through rigorous testing before making it into homes. Large circular contraptions would house these tests and were constructed from iron to ensure the safety of those watching on. Now, this once-spherical eyesore has been transformed into a fully-fledged bar making it the perfect addition to any man cave. Officially called the Light Bulb Voltage Tester Bar, this rustic piece of furniture maintains its 1920s aesthetic to emanate a truly masculine presence. This unique contraption opens up to reveal an interior featuring three shelves for your spirits, three stemware racks and five slots for wine bottles. Not only is this an imposing figure to look at, it's also a heavy one and with a weight of around 120kgs you'll need to rope in a few mates to get this into your man cave. Once it's set up though, you can sit back and enjoy the beverages from your new conversation starter.

restorationhardware.com

