Little Ava Stories

Elsie Munro

Three stories about Ava and Nana and their special time together. From feeding the chickens and walking in the rain to making a mountain of autumn leave to jump in to, these stories take the reader through the changing seasons. These little stories celebrate the relationship between a grandparent and a child and also between a child and nature.

The Author

Elsie Munro holds close to her heart the childhood memory of her Nana and the stories they shared. Little Ava Stories was inspired by the birth of Elsie's granddaughter and is her first collection of stories to be published. She hopes that all children may know the love of making stories.
