

Veterinarian Compounding

Veterinary compounding can improve compliance and maximize therapeutic potential. This leads to an overall reduction in animal care cost.

Veterinarians can prescribe medicated treats, topical gels or flavoured suspensions in any strength appropriate for the animal. Medications can also be compounded without unnecessary fillers, dyes or preservatives.

A wide variety of flavours are available:

Chicken, beef and liver flavours for dogs

Fish flavours for cats

Fruit flavours for birds

Apple, cherry or caramel flavours for horses