

Material Matters. Sweet dreams are made with...

Organic Cotton

We use organic cotton for the same reason we eat organic food. Why expose ourselves to potentially harmful chemicals when it's unnecessary? It's pure and natural. Aaaaaaaah.

Pure & Organic Wool

When you sleep, your body rejuvenates by perspiring. (Ok, some of you sweat.)

It's your body's natural way of detoxifying. Our blend of natural and organic wool wicks away the body's moisture keeping you dry throughout the night, allowing your body to breathe in a clean, restorative environment. How refreshing?

Recycled Steel

Just like fashion, (leggings, crimped hair, bell bottoms) our materials always make a comeback—ensuring we won't deplete the world of its natural resources.

Natural Latex

Need a hug? Our natural rubber hugs to your every curve. Its natural elasticity and flexibility conform to your body, which takes the pressure off your joints. It aligns your spine, giving you the rest necessary to feel refreshed. Now, you'll only hit the snooze button two times instead of fifteen.

THE ARCHETYPE PILLOW TOP

The Beatles. Platform shoes. Simon Cowell.
You know how it goes – the newest things always sweep through Europe, before they hit the U.S. Inspired by a European layered sleep system, the Hawley is handcrafted here in the states, making it as American as Gidget.
