PRICE BATCH module

The L-BOSS Price Batch module is used to control pricing changes for future events. Batches can be pre-programmed for both permanent price changes and for promotional batches. The system automatically determines the correct prices that are in turn sent to the registers at the appropriate time.

System features include:

- Price change batch with automatic activation at the appropriate date.
- Promotional batches with start and stop dates.
- L-BOSS uses the best price automatically whenever the same product is placed in more than one batch with competing dates.
- Items can be selected globally for inclusion in the batch.
- Batches can be saved after expiry for use in the future.
- Copy batch contents to a new batch.
- Import price change data from host communication file into batches.
- Import batch data from portable data terminal.
- Batch can override the discountable status set on individual items.
- The batch movement reports will help with purchasing decisions.
- Mark-down reports for promotional batches.
