SPECIAL OPERATIONS EQUIPMENT

HIGH PERFORMANCE GEAR THAT WORKS FOR YOU, NOT AGAINST YOU.

THE MORRISON DIFFERENCE

- ☑ We are not just another company that sells military and tactical equipment.
- ☑ Everything we sell is measured, tested, evaluated and peer reviewed.
- ☑ Morrison Industries provides equipment to our clients that must pass stringent human performance testing.
- ☑ We demand that our equipment be a genuine asset to the operator and actually improve performance in addition to being better than what was previously used.
- ☑ We firmly believe that once you use our products you will never go through another company for performance gear. The proof is in what you feel and you will not be disappointed.

Morrison Industries is AGGRESSIVE EVOLUTION!!

About Morrison Industries

Morrison Industries, LTD was founded on the premiss that the experienced operator knows best.

The operator's experience in combat and the military at large gives him the insight to understand the true value of an item. He can see a gimmick from a mile away and he knows quality with a glance.

With this insight, based on 19 years of special operations experience and multiple combat deployments, Nate Morrison of Morrison Industries seeks out the best training and equipment in the world for today's special operations soldiers.

The selection process is brutal. Nate has worked on research, development, testing and evaluation projects ranging from strobe lights to helmet design to the V-22 Osprey. Every item is measured and evaluated very carefully based on actual needs and the ability to perform in combat conditions. Morrison Industries is only interested in equipment that meets the real-world needs of soldiers and operators.

Morrison Industries offers only uniquely effective items that represent the current best performance or the next evolutionary step in combat performance. Period.

L5 SOFT SHELL COMBAT WORK HORSE

The L5 Soft Shell is an amazing piece of engineering. Manufactured for combat mobility it is also the toughest and softest soft shell material in the world. We have been trying to destroy our demo set in the mountains for two years and it still looks and feels new. You simply cannot damage it!

We actually hate to see summer arrive because we have to put this amazing set away for the season.

We have tested this item up to 14,300ft at -15 degrees below zero in 40mph winds. The wind doesn't penetrate and we stayed warm. All you need is insulation underneath it! Built for war in the mountains and Siberia!

You will never catch us without the L5 when the weather turns cold.

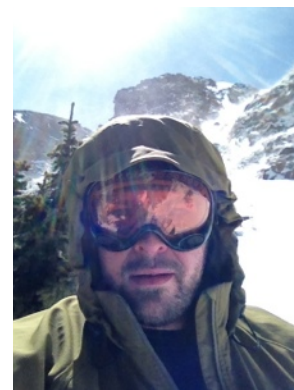

PERFECT POCKETS

The L5 front slash pockets accommodate knives and tools with clips. The bellows thigh pockets use zip closure to added security.

FITS OVER BODY ARMOR

Many operators prefer to throw on a jacket over their kit. The L5 handles this with ease.

WIDE RANGE OF CAPABILITIES

The L5 is perfect for conditions ranging from the 40s to below zero. Perfect of cold weather and mountain warfare operations.

L7 HIGH LOFT INSULATION SET

SIBERIAN HEAT

Built for truly extreme Russian cold, the L7 is better fitting and better insulated than the US SOCOM PCU garments. We have tested the L7 up to 14,300ft in the worst winter conditions of the year and found it to be more than warm enough. In fact if we were moving it was too warm!

The L7 is perfect for sitting in an OP, extreme cold and used in conjunction with a light weight sleeping bag to save space and weight. This is a must for Arctic operations.

The L7 hood accommodates most ballistic helmets. It also has internal pockets for gloves and other loose items. It also affords a profound level of comfort and mobility while wearing full combat equipment underneath.

EXCELLENT FACE & HEAD COVERAGE

L7 protects the face and head better than anything on the market.

INTERIOR STORAGE

Internal pockets for warm storage.
