

About Cocoa Care

The Community Solutions International (CSI) Cocoa Care program is a highly productive and effective method for businesses or individuals to directly engage with Indonesian cocoa farming families and ensure the future of the many industries around the world that rely on cocoa production.

Cocoa Care is not affiliated with government or large private programs and operates instead by providing immediate assistance and support for the long term and sustainable success of cocoa farming families in Indonesia.

Cocoa Care can manage individual programs or combine sponsor contribution for a broader impact.

Working with a volunteer team of experienced technical advisers, Cocoa Care ensures all programs are managed efficiently, have the maximum possible impact, resulting in life changing and enduring sustainability of cocoa farms.

COCOA CARE

Secure The Future of Chocolate

Make a Difference

If you care about making a difference to people's lives, are in the business of chocolate or simply in love with one of nature's sweetest gifts, you should be aware of the intense challenges facing the cocoa industry today. It's in your best interests to make cocoa farming your business too.

Cocoa farm income and productivity has declined by more than 50 per cent over the past ten years presenting a very real threat to the future of cocoa production.

Many of the obstacles faced by Indonesian cocoa farmers, causing some to abandon the business, are easily resolved with the support and training solutions provided by Cocoa Care.

Cocoa Care provides access to training, tools, materials and support so desperately needed to help farmers develop and maintain a sustainable and productive cocoa farm to secure their families future.

Take An Active Role in The Future of Cocoa

Choose a Cocoa Care program and personally monitor the progress of your selected farming family. We have designed our programs so you can choose a number of aspects that urgently require support, watch them develop, grow and become a healthy and functioning farming operation, changing many lives in the process.

How Do I Select a Package?

Cocoa Care program sponsorship includes:

- Both in-class and on-farm training providing essential cocoa tree care knowledge.
- Replacement or rehabilitation of non-productive, dead or diseased trees with top grafted seedlings producing cocoa pods after approximately 14 - 18 months.
- Provide tools, training and materials for optimum soil management which improves soil nutrition and biodiversity to reduce soil born diseases.
- Role-appropriate tool kits for all necessary farm activities including pruning, farm sanitation and soil management.
