

Tasting Notes - Vintage 1995

The Vintage 1995 was the first ever Vintage specifically laid in cask with the intention of, when mature, bottling as The Glenrothes.

With about 30% from first fill American Sherry oak delivering butterscotch: Spice and dried fruits from 1st fill Spanish Sherry oak and the rest from refill casks giving the characteristic Glenrothes balance and complexity of flavour. Arguably it is preferable post-dinner when conversation is in full flow.

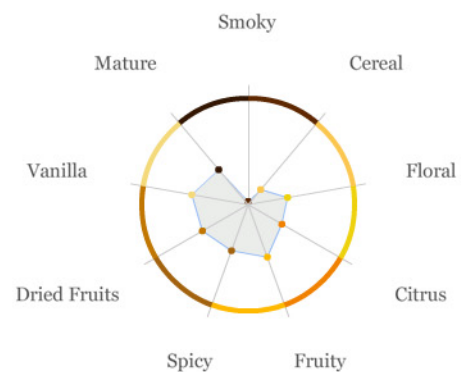

It fulfils every anticipation of The Glenrothes: A “come-hither” nose filled with exotic spices is followed by a citrus and fruity richness coated in honeyed butterscotch. These flavours, and more, are all delivered on the palate culminating with a long, rich and satisfying, fruity spiciness.

Appearance:	Medium golden, clear and bright
Bouquet:	Floral, citrus and butterscotch notes with a hint of spicy white pepper and cedar-wood syrup
Palate:	Rich, sweet, soft fruit flavour, leading to a rich spiciness
Finish:	Sugared citrus peel soft fruits, medium dry with abundant spices

My Tasting Notes

Vanilla	<input type="checkbox"/>	Fruity	<input type="checkbox"/>
Mature	<input type="checkbox"/>	Citrus	<input type="checkbox"/>
Cereal	<input type="checkbox"/>	Floral	<input type="checkbox"/>
Dried Fruits	<input type="checkbox"/>	Smoky	<input type="checkbox"/>
Spicy	<input type="checkbox"/>

(Whisky attributes are scored on a 10 point scale)

What Next?

Go to www.theglenrothes.com, record your tasting scores, compare your taste with other likeminded people and add your thoughts on this dram.