SHINY, NEW AND RED

1 With a shapely silhouette, this red lacquered Pagoda Coffee Table is perfectly scaled for apartment living. SHAKE YOUR BON BON

2 Just like candies are sweet treats, this medium Santorini Bon Bon Bowl by Jonathan Adler is just as sweet with its fun proportions and citrus-inspired colors that are accented by real gold. Part of the iconic potter's newest additions, this 6.5-inch tall piece can be placed alone or clustered together with the small and large porcelains from the Santorini collection. $178.

PRETTY PASTELS

3 In celebration of its 30th anniversary, MacKenzie-Childs launches a new enamelware collection, Aurora, which draws inspiration from its namesake town in quaint Upstate New York—spot hidden portraits of the MacKenzie-Childs estate barns and artisan studios. Consider the entire collection or score a single piece, like the Aurora Pitcher to bring pale greens, peaches, aqua, and white into your home. $36-$108, Pitcher (shown) $72.

BRIGHT AND CHEERY

4 Handmade in 14 steps using ancient Indian techniques that call for all-natural dyes, no two fabrics and prints from Les Indiennes are alike. "There's always some kind of tiny variation," founder Mary Mulcahy says. "Just adding two of my pillows totally transforms the entire look of the room. A little touch changes everything." Take note and swap out old pillows with a pair of 22" x 22" Paris Deco Pillows in Gold for your own hint of sunshine. $72 for cover, insert not included.
