Canary allows you to see at a glance if everything is at it should be

How will Canary help

Canary allows you to see at a glance on a webpage via a mobile or laptop if everything is as it should be.

For example if the person you care for:

- + is safely out of bed and has started their day at the usual time
- + has visited the kitchen at breakfast, lunch and in the evening
- + is in the living room for most of the day and regularly visits the bathroom
- + goes off to the bedroom at the usual time in the evening and

- + if the house is warm enough... but not too hot
- + if a visitor, eg the cleaner or a carer has visited as expected

If anything out of the ordinary does occur Canary will text or email you so that you can check that everything is ok.

How Canary works

Canary monitors many normal daily activities using discreet sensors placed around the home to check that everything is as it should be. Canary manages all of its internal and external messages using wireless and mobile phone technology so you don't need to worry about phone lines or internet connections. Canary does not use cameras or microphones so no one can be seen or heard.

Setting up Canary

Canary has been designed to be very easy to install without any professional help:

All you need to do is plug in the hub, place the sensors around the home log in to your webpage and you're done!

"We're getting on really well, I use Canary to check first thing in the morning and at teatime – just to see that everything's ok. It's easy to use and it gives peace of mind without being intrusive to my Mum"

Julie O, Chester

"I could not recommend Canary more highly, it is such a helpful system for all the family and helps to reassure us daily. Phone calls are now more about a nice conversation and catch up rather than 'checking in' to see that Grandpa is OK"
