FIRMING PROPERTIES

An important component of Aosa is its elastic and fibrous protein molecules whose properties are comparable to those of elastine. These molecules contain proline and lysine, two amino acids present in human elastin. These amino acids enable seaweed to survive in their environment of repeated wave action.

AOSA (Ulva lactuca)

Aosa algae belong to the green algae family which is also known as sea lettuce. Their elastic proteins give them suppleness and firmness.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Dose

2 oz (60 g) of powder and 30 oz (180 g) of water.

Dilution

Pour the water rapidly on the powder. Stir vigorously approximately one minute until a homogeneous paste is obtained. Important: use water at 65° (20°C).

Application

Apply paste immediately after having protected the nipple area. The mask sets in 8 to 8 1/2 minutes after application.

Treatment time

Leave the mask at least 15 minutes. Remove by peeling off in one piece.
