1 Print the sizing guide at 100% scale.

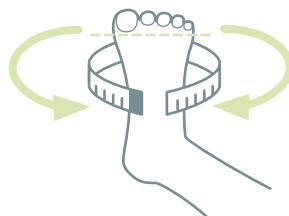

2 Put the length tape measure on a hard, flat floor. If possible place the heel line against a wall for more accurate measuring.

3 Place your child's heel as shown. The back of the heel should line up with the heel line on the length tape measure. Feet must be flat and toes extended straight out. If your child will be wearing socks or tights with the shoe, please measure with the socks or tights on.

4 Measure the length of both of your child's feet. Use the larger of the two lengths for finding the most appropriate shoe size for your child using the sizing guide in the table above.

5 European shoe brands do not offer different width measurements - their shoes are designed and made to fit an average width, being the vast majority of children's feet. It is only certain shoe retailers in the UK that offer different width sizes for feet that are especially narrow or wide, so if you know that this is the case with your child, you may prefer to select a model with adjustable fastenings for a better fit.
