

SELF

may 13

HEALTH

BY RACHEL JACOBY AT 3:00 PM

5 Sunscreens We Love for Summer

You guys know May is Skin Cancer Awareness Month, right? Well, you should by now (!) - - we've already hosted an event, Mole-Check Monday, where we offered Flywheel riders free skin checks, and told you about those life-saving letters, ABCDE, too. Well in order to protect yourself, you've gotta use some SPF. But not just any old SPF that you find -- and definitely none of that tanning oil. Here, some of our favorite sunscreens for summer.

- For the Gal On the Go: Brush on Block Broad Spectrum SPF 30 ($30)

Not enough time in the day? This brush-on formula is for you. Made from mineral powders, Brush On Block has the same traits that mineral makeup does -- it's natural, non-irritating and easy to apply. And if you're the type of lady running between appointments, parties or just around town, you'll needn't stress -- this powder applies invisibly. Really, don't sweat it: this SPF is water resistant for up to eighty minutes. Did we mention the company sells refills, so it's way eco-friendly, too?