DH Dragon Rapide - G-AIYR Classic Wings, IWM Duxford

The de Havilland Dragon Rapide was originally introduced in the mid 1930s as a highly successful British passenger bi-plane used for short haul flights. A military version of the Rapide - the Dominie - was used as a navigation and radio trainer aircraft and G-AIYR first flew in 1943 in RAF livery with serial number HG691. After WWII, she subsequently reverted to civilian use, appearing at shows and exhibitions. Following restoration to her RAF markings, this particular Dragon Rapide is now used by the company Classic Wings for pleasure flights out of Duxford. Why not go along to the Imperial War Museum in Cambridgeshire and get a glimpse of her in person!

Our 1:72 scale model is a replica of G-AIYR in her RAF guise painted in a satin aluminium finish with yellow propeller tips, wing and fuselage bands. Her serial numbers appear in black on the upper wings and on the sides of the fuselage. Exhaust pipes and tyres are also black and the window glazing is finished in silver. A final detail includes a transparent nose cone.

Dennis F106 Side Pump - London Fire Brigade

The Dennis F106 was produced between 1963 and 1968, during which time only 99 vehicles were built. This newly tooled Side Pump version is modelled on the F106, Fleet No F21, registered SMH 325F. Special features include the detailed winding mechanism of the roof, white tips to the roof ladders. The London Fire Brigade crest is emblazoned on the side lockers on both sides and the many fine masking operations in silver and black all create a wealth of detail on the vehicle. And - a promise from Oxford - look out a little later on for the rear pump version

AEC Mercury TL - Newcastle

Our second release of the newly tooled AEC Mercury TL comes from the joint Newcastle and Gateshead Fire Brigade, where it sported a unique livery of dark crimson and red right into the 1970s.

Our model is based on JVK 526D, with the details of the original faithfully reproduced. You can see the finely detailed Fire Brigade crest incorporating both Newcastle and Gateshead. Other refinements include a chrome bell and searchlight, cable reel on the offside, a control box with silver and white dials and fine white coach lines to the bright red skirt, mudguards and locker doors.

Ford Transit SWB - Garda

This short wheel base version of the Oxford Ford Transit, modelled with the medium high roof option, is as used by the Irish Garda and comes in the familiar white, blue and yellow colour scheme used by the police. Stationed in Dublin, our modern police van is registered 07 D 87120 and the graphics even include the force website details. As well as the wealth of chrome throughout the bodywork, another additional feature includes protective anti-riot mesh above the windscreen. This 1:76 scale authentic replica will be an interesting variation for collectors of police transport, as well as enthusiasts of the popular Irish liveries in general. .

Ford Transit LWB Hi-top - Bus Eireann

Here at Oxford we continue our series of support and service vehicles as used by bus companies with this long wheelbase Ford Transit. Using our Hi-top roof option, this modern van is as used by the Bus Eireann Company, again in the Dublin area, registered 11 D 35215. The bright colour scheme of white, red, yellow and green reflects the livery of the bus fleet, complete with the company logo incorporating its delightful dog. With a grey interior, most of the external masking is in matt black with the Ford badge in blue and silver on the front and the rear doors. It will sit well with your fleet of Irish buses, all ready for the next service job!

VW Van - Peru Green

New Oxford tooling brings the N gauge VW Van which has been modelled previously in 1:76 scale and we are sure its introduction will excite collectors of this small scale range. The same detail has been faithfully reproduced on this cult vehicle, registered here as CNN 726J. Decorated in Peru Green, the model has a grey interior and black chassis.

Fordson Tractor - Blue

The Fordson Tractor is also already part of Oxford's 1:76 scale series and this new N gauge introduction has all the highly detailed features of its 00 counterpart. Our model is highly visible in bright blue with orange wheels. The steering wheel and instrument panel are black and the minutely detailed Fordson badge has been printed above the silver masked radiator grille on the front. The Fordson Power Major badge printed in silver, red and black has also been faithfully reproduced.

AEC 6-Wheel Ergomatic Tipper - NCB

This third release on the Oxford AEC 6-wheel Ergomatic Tipper comes in the National Coal Board livery of midnight blue, with contrasting gold lettering, as it worked in the North Western area. Registered HTB 224K, the lorry has a black interior, whilst the exterior silver masking detail extends to the door handles and even the steps beneath the driver's door. The model would look good on any OO railway layout which has a coal depot adjacent to the station yard or as part of a mining landscape.

Austin K8 - Achille Serre

This retro Oxford release on the Austin K8 is certainly a blast from the past. The expert dry cleaners and launderers company was founded by Frenchman Achille Serre and his wife Eugenie, who came over to England from France in 1870. At its peak it had over 400 shops and 1700 employees. Our Oxford model is decorated in yellow and black company livery and sports the authentic Achille Serre logo with the winged figure and lettering on the sides. Registered PEV 436, additional detail includes the minute Austin badge in silver out of red on the bonnet and rear, as well as a black interior.

Bentley MkVI - Balmoral Green Metallic/Ice Green

The Bentley Mk VI 4-door standard steel sports saloon is another immediately post-war car which was manufactured by Bentley Motors of Crewe between 1946 and 1952.

It was the first model from the company to incorporate all-steel coachwork, as well as being the first complete car assembled and finished at their Rolls-Royce factory. Just over 5000 were produced of this 4-door saloon, classed as a full-size luxury car.

Our second model of the Mk VI appears in a very attractive two-tone green colour scheme, registered MMB 387. This high-class car also features white wall tyres with silver masked wheel inserts, silver bumpers and authentic intricately detailed Bentley badge.

Austin Atlantic Convertible - Cream

Registered HB 7049, our latest version of the Austin Atlantic convertible is the second release off the new tool. In real life, production only lasted from 1949 to 1952, during which time just under 8000 of the marque were made.

It made its debut at the 1948 Earls Court Motor Show and was available either as a 2-door saloon or 2-door convertible.

Painted in cream with contrasting tan hood in the folded down position, the elegant lines of the car are enhanced with chrome masked fittings and a highly detailed Austin badge finished in silver, pale green and blue appears on the front of the bonnet and the boot catch. The words Austin of England are also printed in silver along the sides. The cream wheels with silver inserts

AUTO REVIEW BOOKS

AR90 Miniature Vehicles

Since the first issue of MAR, 'miniature vehicles' have had their place in our pages. This publication covers pedal cars, more exclusive cars for children (often electric or petrol powered), miniature vehicles of a more 'practical' bent, such as Atco Trainers and Rytecraft Scootacars, miniature passenger-carrying buses (Johnstone, Fraser and others), plus miniature trams, trucks and caravans.
