

Richard Cloutier's New Paintings At Ernden Fine Arts June 22

PROVINCETOWN, MASS. — Celebrating its 11th anniversary, Ernden Fine Arts Gallery, 397 Commercial Street, will open an exhibition of new paintings by Canadian artist, Richard Cloutier, on Friday, June 22. They will be on view through Thursday, August 28.

A native of Quebec City, Cloutier's richly hued, contemporary paintings bring together, and grow out of, his keen awareness of design. He received his BA in architecture in 1989, and an MA in visual arts from Laval University. Each painting reflects a way of imagining things through lines defining time and space. These new paintings continue to explore the meaning relationships: in space, with oneself, with one's neighbors; yet reflect a more subtle application of color and a looser geometry. They contain a quality of landscape, like "slices" of landscape, or seascape.

The essential challenge of his art is to come to each painting without ideas, without preconceptions; rather, entering into the responsive relationship between painter and painting, staying open to that organic, evolutionary exchange. And this is the delight, as well.

In Cloutier's new work, spatial contrasts are receding, color harmonies are closer and there is a greater integration of color and plane, a sense of unity.

Cloutier is a member of Les Ateliers 3 Cinquième, a group of more than 15 artists working in studios transformed from a former funeral home. Cloutier's work is shown in galleries in Quebec City, Quebec; in Toronto; and in Provincetown. In 2002, he presented a specially conceived exhibition for the Loubens-Lauragais Château, near Toulouse, France.
