

You would rather have a different strap on your timepiece?

No problem, changing it couldn't be easier.

- 01 On the back of your strap, you will find a small metal pin. Slide this inward.
- 02 The band can then be easily detached from the watch case.
- 03 Now you can attach a new strap to your timepiece. To do so, do the same thing again: push back the metal pin and then release it to let the new strap snap into place. Make sure you attach the short side to the upper side of the watch.

Final check: Is everything securely in place?

Done.
