

LynkSpyder

Assembly and Part Description

"Claw" - (4) pieces. Used to attach bracket to fence.

"Main Plate" - (1) piece.

"Spyder Slider" - (1) piece. Used to mount camera to the main plate. Allows the ability to adjust the camera location after the bracket is locked in place. When using the option "Adapter" add-on, it is suggested to flip the Slider such that the tab is on the bottom side. See "Adapter Add-on Documentation" for further explanation.

Black "Thumb Nut" - (7) pieces (8 in when the adapter option is added). The thumb nuts are used to secure all of the fasteners in place.

Silver "Step Bolt" - (6) pieces. (4) of the step bolts are used to secure each of the claws. (2) of the step bolts are used to secure the Spyder Slider in place.

Tripod mount fasteners - Composed of 3 parts: "Thumb Nut", "Set Screw", and neoprene "Shock Absorbers". These pieces are used to secure the tripod mount to the "Spyder Slider". Shown on the left, these 3 pieces are held in a temporary location for shipping only. To install, see the "Camera Mount Fastener Note" on the following page.

Black Neoprene (rubber) "Shock Absorber" - (5) pieces. The shock absorbers are mounted between metal components and are designed to reduce harmonic vibration in the fence. (4) of the pieces are used between the claws and main plate. The 5th piece is used between the Spyder Slider and the tripod mount.

Optional Adapter Add-On Documentation

"Adapter Add-on" - (1) piece. This piece is used to allow for the use of traditional camcorders and small to medium cameras. It is advised that the "Spyder Slider" be mounted with the tab on the bottom (as shown). Fasten the adapter to the Slider using the included "Hex Bolt". It is recommended that you use a 7/16" wrench to firmly tighten the hex bolt in place.

Tripod mount fasteners - Composed of 3 parts: "Thumb Nut", "Set Screw", and neoprene "Shock Absorbers". These pieces are used to secure the tripod mount to the "Spyder Slider". Shown on the left, these 3 pieces are held in a temporary location for shipping only.
