Finishing: Bond Papers benefit the most from encapsulation using pressure sensitive or low melt lamination. This product accepts all forms of finishing including staples, tape, folding and lamination.

Durability: Bond material is susceptible to environmental conditions that can affect image lifespan. Encapsulation with UV laminates will prolong the life of prints on this media. Unlaminated life-span is very dependent on environmental conditions, while encapsulated prints have much better archival qualities.

Compatibility: Canon iPF, HP Designjet, Epson T-Series, most large format printers excepting plain paper.
