3. The Parties agree to effect the subject matter of this Agreement in accordance with its provisions and with due care assessed according to the principles of transacting business professionally and taking into account the increased business standards and good faith.

§2 Rules of cooperation

1. Under this Agreement, the Distributor undertakes to promote the Seller’s products, including orthopaedic and medical products. The promotional activities referred to in the preceding sentence shall include in particular:
 - a) placing information in the social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and other social networks) about the Seller’s business activity and products,
 - b) giving favourable opinions about the Seller’s products,
 - c) distributing the Seller’s promotional materials the Distributor receives from the Seller,
 - d) other promotional activities.

2. The Parties mutually represent and acknowledge that all patents, protection rights and other rights in relation to the Seller's products, utility models, industrial design, commercial marks, trademarks, the Seller's logotypes constitute the Seller's property. Under this Agreement, the Distributor shall receive a royalty-free license that shall entitle him to use the Seller's products, commercial marks, trademarks, and logo exclusively in the scope that shall be necessary to perform this Agreement. The licence is regulated in §5 below.
3. The Seller stipulates that this Agreement does not give the Distributor exclusivity to promote and/or sell the Seller's products on the territory defined in §1.2 above.
4. The Distributor shall not be entitled to any additional remuneration for the promotional activities set forth in point 1.a above.

§3 Possibility to extend cooperation

1. In the case where the Distributor should acquire a customer or where a customer should be referred to the Distributor through the Distributor's efforts, the Parties undertake to conclude an Agreement on Cooperation – "Silver" under which the Parties' cooperation shall be extended by the sale of the Seller's products with exclusivity on the territory defined in the agreement.
2. A draft agreement referred to in point 1 above forms Attachment No. 1 hereto.

§4 License and industrial property rights

1. In his economic activity, the Distributor shall not be authorized to use for purposes contrary to or exceeding the rules set forth herein any of the protection rights, industrial property rights or copyrights or related rights concerning the Seller's products, including in particular in his own production process, except for his compliance with the guidelines referred to in §5.1 above and subject to this §5.
2. For the purpose of this Agreement, the Seller hereby grants the Distributor a royalty-free nonexclusive licence on the territory indicated in §1.3 above for the duration of this Agreement (regardless of the manner of its expiry) within the limits of the Distributor's use of the intellectual property rights, copyrights and related rights constituting the Seller's property, commercial marks, logotypes, trademarks to perform this Agreement, including in particular the implementation of marketing, advertising, promotional, and sales aims.
3. The specification of the Seller's commercial marks, trademarks, and logotypes forms Attachment No. 2 hereto.
4. Within the licence referred to in point 2 above, the Distributor shall be entitled to use the rights covered by the licence on all known (from the point of view of the state of the art) fields of exploitation on the day of conclusions of this Agreement, including in particular on the following fields of exploitation:

 - i) broadcasting by vision or sound via the terrestrial means or by satellite by wire or wirelessly;
 - j) translation.
5. In connection with the licence granted, the Distributor shall be authorized to put together his own logotypes, trademarks and commercial marks with the Seller's trademarks, commercial marks and logotypes for which he was granted a licence under this Agreement.
6. The Parties agree that the Distributor shall not be authorized to grant further licences.
7. In the case of the termination or expiry of this Agreement, regardless of the reason for the expiry or termination, the licence referred to in point 4 above shall expire. In the event of expiry of the licence, the Distributor shall be obligated to cease using the rights arising out of this Agreement for which he was granted the licence to use. Furthermore, the Distributor shall also have the duty to return to the Seller all materials bearing the Seller's commercial marks, trademarks, logotypes, and other marks of the Seller, and to remove them from all data carriers in the Distributor's possession.

§5 Confidentiality

1. The Distributor undertakes and acknowledges that all information that the Seller has communicated to him shall be kept in full secret and confidentiality; that they shall be used and utilized exclusively for the purposes connected with the performance of this Agreement; and that such information shall not be communicated or disclosed to any third person unless the Seller should give his expressed written consent.
2. The duty of confidentiality shall not apply to the information that is generally known or the duty to disclose it arises out of the provisions of law or a ruling of an administrative authority or a court.
3. A violation of the duty of confidentiality shall be each disclosure, communication of the information or making the information available to third persons contrary to the rules defined above.
4. In the case of the Distributor violating the duty of confidentiality, the Seller shall be entitled to pursue damages in full amount in accordance with the provisions of the Polish civil code being in force.

 - a) the Distributor should fail to perform his promotional duties arising out of this Agreement or should he disseminate negative information about the Seller;
 - b) the Distributor has breached the provisions of this Agreement concerning the licence;
 - c) the Distributor violated other provisions of this Agreement.

§10 Communication between the Parties

1. The parties agree that all notifications, calls or requests relating to the performance of this Agreement shall be made to the Parties, with the effect of having been delivered in writing unless provisions of law should require a statement to be made in a specific form, in the following manner:
 - a) to the Seller by registered letter, courier service, or electronic mail to the address: []
 - b) to the Distributor by registered letter, courier service, or electronic mail to the address: []
2. Each Party may change their data indicated in point 1 above by written notification sent to the other Party to the address indicated in point 1; such a change shall not constitute an amendment to this Agreement.
3. Each Party represents that notifications sent in the above manner to the address provided until its possible change shall be deemed as valid and effectively served. In the case where a Party should fail to notify the other Party about the change of addresses in accordance with the preceding sentence, if a letter shall be returned with an annotation of a competent post office or courier service provider: "Not collected on time," "Addressee does not exist," "Addressee moved out," or some other similar annotation then it shall be deemed effectively served.

§11 Final provisions

1. All attachments to this Agreement constitute its integral part.
2. The Agreement shall be governed by Polish law and all of its provisions shall be interpreted in accordance therewith. The provisions of the Polish law shall apply to the matters which are not regulated by this Agreement, including in particular the provisions of the civil code.
3. The Parties undertake to resolve all disputes amicably. Where amicable resolution of a dispute is not possible, the dispute shall be resolved by a court of law with jurisdiction over the city of Kraków.
4. All amendments, additions or any other changes to the terms or provisions of this Agreement must be made in writing, otherwise they shall be null and void.
5. In the case where any of the provisions of the Agreement should prove to be or become invalid or unenforceable, the Parties shall be obligated to immediately amend or supplement the Agreement in a way that will as faithfully as possible correspond to the intention of the Parties in such a provision.

6. This Agreement was concluded in two counterparts, one for each of the Parties.
