EndyMed™ - RF Skin Tightening

Facial and body contouring is an increasingly popular aesthetic procedure for patients looking for a non-invasive way to tighten loose skin, particularly for their face and for after weight loss. Delivering amazing results with no downtime, EndyMed's™- body contouring solutions provide the strongest, most effective treatments for toning, tightening, and cellulite reduction.

How Does The Facial and Body Tightening Work?

Temperature-controlled radiofrequency energy is delivered into dermal and subdermal skin layers of the targeted treatment area to stimulate natural collagen growth, which gradually smoothes and firms the skin.

What Can I Expect During Treatment?

Most patients experience little to no discomfort, only warmth and slight pressure where the hand-piece is applied. Some minor redness is possible - this dissipates relatively quickly.

What Can I Expect Post Treatment?

Most patients resume their normal daily activities soon after their treatment, if not immediately. Skin texture, tone, and elasticity gradually improve over time as new collagen develops. A series of six treatments spaced one to two weeks apart is typically recommended for skin tightening.
