

KURT DESK

M NILS HOLGER MOORMANN

The „Kurt“ secretary consists of a tabletop, two steel legs, and a solid wood latch. The u-shaped bent ends of the steel legs are inserted through slots in the plate. Then the wooden latch is put in between. The assembly takes place after preloading the legs with a belt. A kink in the legs below the plate presses it up against the latch. By removing the belts the individual parts jam into each other. The wooden latch can be complemented with trays and drawers and offers storage space. The area behind the latch serves as a shelf. „Kurt“ provides other options in different materials, colors, and surfaces.
