

Hirche Lounge Chair

M RICHARD LAMPERT
D Herbert Hirche, 1953

Herbert Hirche's design of this chair refers strongly to the ›Bauhaus‹, where Hirche was a student from 1930 to 1933, his main teacher being Mies van der Rohe. Afterwards Hirche worked in van der Rohe's office and later with Egon Eiermann. The ›Lounge Chair‹ was designed in 1953 during Hirche's time as professor at the Academy of Art in Stuttgart. Unusually enough, the chair never went beyond prototype stage. Only since the year 2000, Richard Lampert produces this classic with a variety of fabrics and cow skins.

CHAIR
 W 22.4" x D 31.5" x H 27.2"
 seat height 9.4"

STOOL
 W 22.4" x D 22.4" x H 13.4"

FRAME
 TUBULAR STEEL

- black
- white
- basalt grey
- bronze
- chrome

UPHOLSTERY
 LEATHER
 FABRIC

see options below

Upholstery options (white cushion also available without upholstery)

LEATHER

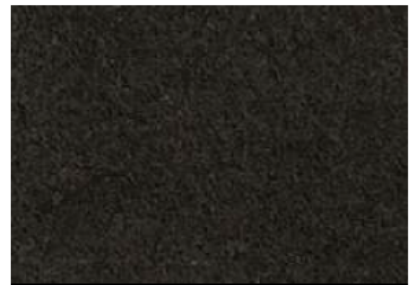

SMOOTH LEATHER black

SUEDE medium brown

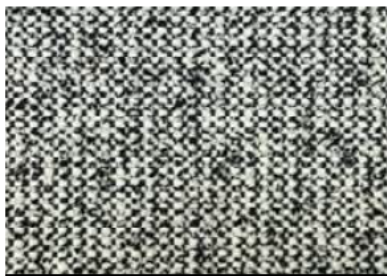

SUEDE mocha

SUEDE black

Category 1

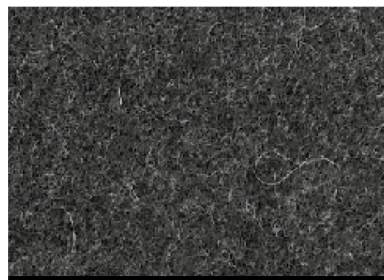

SALT PEPPER

90% CO, 10% CV

FACET light grey

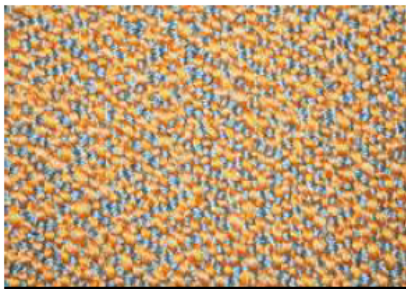

FACET dark grey

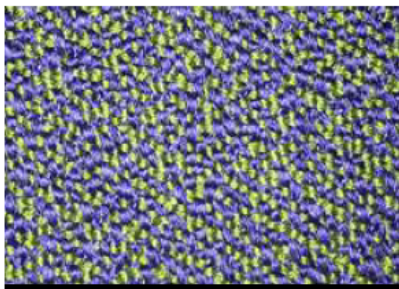

FACET brown

70% WO, 25% PA, 5% OF

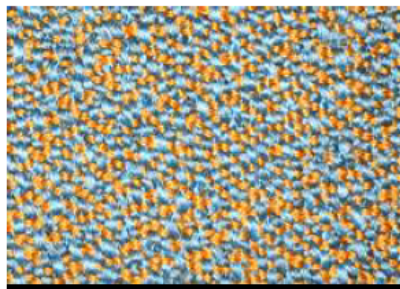

Category 2

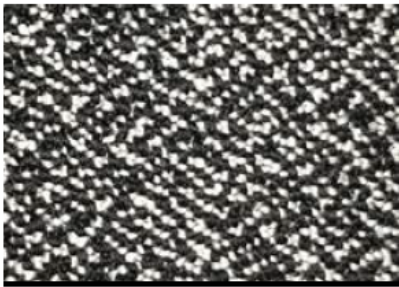

SERA arancio

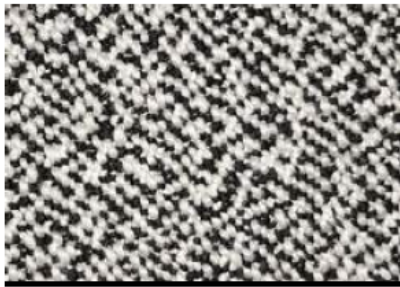

SERA mare

SERA mirage

SERA marmo

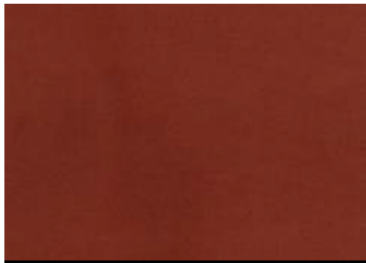

SERA e'er

94% WQ, 6% PA

Category 3

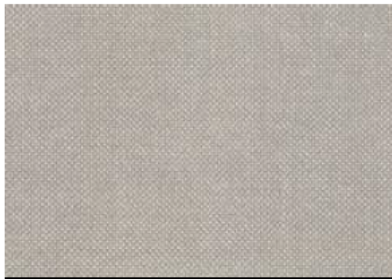

ELOURS green

ELOURS earth

60% WQ, 20% PES, 20% PA

HALLINGDAL 5 1 3

HALLINGDAL 5 27

HALLINGDAL 5 4 7

70% WQ, 30% CV

more options available on request

CLAY 1

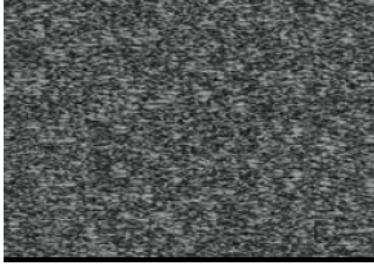

CLAY 11

CLAY 2

76% LI, 21% CO, 3% PES

more options available on request

ERO 14

ERO

ERO 12

65% CO, 20% PAN, 15% PES

more options available on request

Category 4

GENTLE 2 133

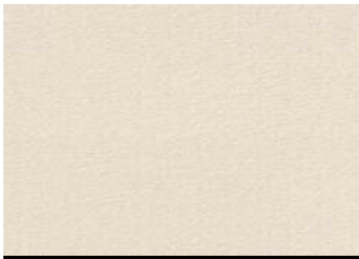

GENTLE 2 3

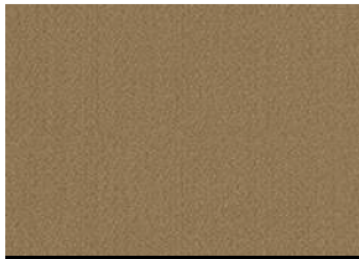

GENTLE 2 73

60% WO, 20% PES, 20% PA

more options available on request

IDAR 4 1

GENTLE 2 3

GENTLE 2 73

94% WO, 6% PA

more options available on request