

Ludwig Bench

M RICHARD LAMPERT ALEXANDER
D SEIFRIED 2007/2008

This piece of furniture is sure to lift the spirit. A new design approach to the traditional beer table and bench, employing premium quality craftsmanship. The foldable legs are powder-coated for outdoor use and a stainless steel crosspiece prevents corrosion. The tabletop is made of five-layer spruce or fir with weather resistant glue and oil finish. Ludwig can be used in the garden or on the terrace, but it works just as well as a dining table in the kitchen or office. The table is 68 cm wide, thus offering enough space for proper dinner settings. The legs of the bench are positioned at a wide angle for good stability. Fitted with needle felt cushions that, using a small quill, 'snap' into place at the centre of the bench. Sophisticated
