Connect without Complexity

As flexible working and hotdesking become the norm, truly Universal Docking is becoming indispensable. While laptops and other mobile devices make working anywhere easy, enterprises are realising that they need the right accessories to maintain productivity and business continuity.

Only Targus gives you genuinely brand agnostic universal docking connectivity for all devices, USB-A and -C compatible with integrated power too. so people can set up anywhere, collaborate on any device and keep projects moving.

of organisations say better technology and accessories would improve employee productivity and satisfaction, according to recent research by IDC.

It's as easy as 1-2-3

Connect any device. Anywhere. Without complexity.

Targus gives you truly universal solutions, unlike many own branded products. From Apple MacBooks to Lenovo and Dell laptops and Microsoft Tablets, teams can plug in all sorts of aging and legacy devices, perfect for the jumbled, mixed device estates most IT teams have to manage. They also offer the only integrated legacy universal power charging, ideal for hot-desking and collaboration.

Take your pick from a range of high spec, patented universal docking stations, including USB-A, USB-C, Thunderbolt™ 3, Travel and Quad-Monitors – with integrated power.

Be backwards and forwards compatible

Because Targus Universal Docking stations are USB-C enabled, they're a future-proof investment, ready for the new era of connectivity, including future USB-C power delivery. This means they offer the widest connectivity and compatibility available, bar none: welcome for IT decision-makers who can extend device lifespan and transform budget impact and ROI.

It's exactly the kind of simple, future-proofed approach you'd expect from Targus.
