

Fractionated Coconut Oil

INCI NAME: Caprylic/Capric Triglyceride

Functions:

Occlusive moisturiser

Our Coconut Oil comes from the Mandar area of South Sulawesi, Indonesia. There are many family businesses and collectives harvesting the virgin jungle in a sustainable way.

The oil is extracted from the Copra (Coconut kernel) by cold pressing.

Virgin Coconut oil is processed to modify the fatty acid composition (fractionation). Fractionation removes some fatty acids. The result is a light-weight oil which is not greasy and which is readily absorbed by the skin.

Attributes:

The fractionated oil is very stable, resistant to oxidation and rancidity.

Coconut oil modifies the consistency of creams and adds its own moisturisers, antimicrobials and antioxidants as well as cleansing the skin.

It is quickly absorbed leaving the skin feeling hydrated and enriched but not greasy.

Fractionated Coconut Oil should not be used on the face as it can clog pores.
