FIRST VIRTUAL FOOD MARKET DEBUTS ON DELIVEROO

You can now select dishes from multiple restaurants in the same order, so everyone gets what they want!

Just when you thought hungry Dubaiians couldn't get more spoilt for choice, Deliveroo has launched the world's first virtual Food Market (Downtown: Food Market DT / JLT: Food Market JLT). Powered by Deliveroo Editions, super kitchens that house delivery-only restaurants, Deliveroo's Food Market seamlessly connects multiple restaurant POS systems with a single customer order, giving customers the option of selecting dishes from different restaurants in the same order. It's perfect for those ordering in groups who prefer different cuisine types. You can now make everyone happy at family gatherings, and this includes your burger-fanatic dad, zaatar-loving cousin and mantoush-maniac mum.

Some of the restaurants available through the virtual market include Black Tap, Cha Cha Woo, Wagamama, PINZA, Wild & the Moon, Salad Jar, and more.

A tea-filled advent calendar

The House of Newby advent calendar makes the festive countdown even more opulent than ever for tea lovers. The stunning, five-story façade depicts the iconic frontage of Newby's own headquarters: N. Sethia House. Depicting a glamorous Venetian masquerade festive soiree in full swing complete with a smattering of snowfall, the calendar is a work of art you'll look forward to opening every morning.

From the opening of the first drawer on December 1, tea lovers experience 24 luxury blends from Newby's Classic Tea Bag Collection. Each drawer is packed with four individually wrapped sachets of a select Newby blend, and no two drawers are the same; meaning every day promises a different premium black tea, green tea, oolong tea or tisane, crafted with great care and expertise by Newby.

Selecting the best leaves from prime harvest seasons, Newby's dedicated tea tasters trial thousands of cups before selecting bespoke blends. These high-grade teas are then preserved at a state-of-the-art center in India's finest tea-growing region, ensuring an unbeatable level of quality and freshness.
