

Jetlagged Comic

"A cartoon for flight crews."

"Maybe we should text them."

"Kelly Kincaid's Jetlagged comics are so poignant as they are funny, cleverly articulating the emotional, political and often ridiculous details of flight attendant life."

– Tiffany Hawk, author of Love Me Anyway, a novel about coming-of-age at 35,000 feet

About Jetlagged Comic

Jetlagged Comic is a satirical take on the world of commercial travel through the perspective of the flight crew. Colorful, clean-humored and fun, Jetlagged Comic resonates with the lifestyles and the on and off the job quirks of flight attendants, pilots and frequent travelers.

Jetlagged Comic follows the lives of flight attendants Wanda, Rob, Kitty and sassy-mouthed Bev as they muscle through crowded aisles, target knees and elbows with the beverage cart and teach passengers how to open the lavatory doors. Every cartoon deals with real situations that happen daily in the world of commercial aviation. Jetlagged takes it one step further and adds a goofy and positive spin on an otherwise highly stressed out industry. Since 2012 Jetlagged Comic has been receiving praise from fans for being a relatable and uplifting source of comic relief to get them through their day.

About Kelly

I'm a self-taught cartoonist and let's not forget full-time flight attendant. Writing and drawing Jetlagged Comic for the flight crew community is a dream come true. I work mostly from home while my cat tries to lay on me. Otherwise, I'm cartooning on layovers, between flights and on the jump seat. I'm a member of Cartoonists Northwest and the SCBWI. I live with my husband and cat in Seattle, Washington.

"Kelly perfectly captures the crazy lifestyle of a flight attendant through her art. Jetlagged is smart and funny, the Seinfeld of our little airline world! Intelligent humor at its best!"

– Sara Keagle, flight attendant and author of The Flying Pinto's Flight Attendant Survival Guide

"While it takes me a few pages to describe certain aspects of our lives, Kelly Kincaid does the same thing in a single cartoon. They're brilliant. So unbelievably spot-on."

Your Flight Crew

Bev

Jetlagged's most popular character Bev is a senior, sassy, no-filter flight attendant who really should retire. She's seen it all and takes no prisoners. Just make sure to stay out of her galley.

Rob

Professional, kind and compassionate, Rob loves his job and it shows. He's a perfectionist and likes to work first class. Generally the peace keeper, he'll insert his calm demeanor whenever Bev starts "charming" passengers.

Wanda

Wanda's a frazzled working mom with two girls and an aloof husband. On the plane she attracts chaos, often finding herself in bazaar situations. She said she'd only fly for two years, but who's counting?

Kitty

Young, bubbly and fresh out of training, Kitty's nostalgic for the glamorous days of flying. Delusional of the job's lack-of-glamour, this millennial is nonetheless the most upbeat and cheerful of the crew. She's wanted to be a flight attendant since, like, forever, because she loves people and she loves to fly!

"Kelly's cartoons are a funny and insightful take on the miles and turbulations of modern aviation!"

– Timothy Rhys, film director and editor-in-chief of MovieMaker Magazine
