

The PRI Academy was developed to provide industry-leading training for financial services, investors and other professionals needing to understand how environmental, social and governance issues (ESG) are impacting company performance, shareholder value and investment decision making. The training is completely web-based, which means you can start and finish when and where you please, as long as you have access to the internet. No travel, no pressure, fewer greenhouse gases.

The Academy's global curriculum creates a body of knowledge and common language designed to upskill teams and professionals across investment and capital markets. PRI Academy courses feature content from leading international experts, real-life and hypothetical case studies, financial modeling, and have been designed to help maximise the practical application of key ESG concepts in a convenient timeframe.

A PROVEN TRACK RECORD

"I think for any asset owner looking for a formula for long-term sustainable returns and proper management of reputation risk, 'responsible investment' has been and will continue to be an important strategic topic. I am pleased to say that I have learned a lot about this important subject by taking the training of the PRI Academy."

Tony Chan, Director
Hong Kong Monetary Authority

"This PRI course should become the standardised norm in the wealth management industry. A perfect introduction to responsible investing for all, concise and informative. ESG integration is not only beneficial for clients long-term investments, but I believe it will eventually become a regulatory requirement."

Sophie Haas, Fixed Income Specialist,
HSBC Private Banking

"The training programme is excellent and truly broadens one's awareness of ESG issues and how to account for them in financial analysis. The course and the resources have significantly added to my preparedness to discuss ESG issues with my clients and to promote responsible investments within my practice. Extremely impressed, also, with the level of support and service received from the PRI Academy."

Scott Boassaly, Advisor
J.R. Saint and Associates/Quadrus Investment Services

"As part of our commitment to formally integrating ESG into our research process, Barrow Hanley expects all of our investment professionals to complete the PRI Academy's Getting Started in RI course. I was pleasantly surprised at the user-friendly nature of the module, real-world examples, and overall quality of the course. Will definitely recommend to others."

Lewis Ropp, Managing Director, Partner
Barrow, Hanley, Mewhinney & Strauss, LLC

"A terrific course that provides comprehensive background on the integration of ESG considerations into the investment process. My clients will likely appreciate the depth of knowledge this course provides."

Anthony Edwards, Investment Advisor
