Gesture Drawing

Is a loose way of sketching that attempts to capture your subject's basic form with express movement.

Contour Line

An outline that defines an edge or form of the subject.

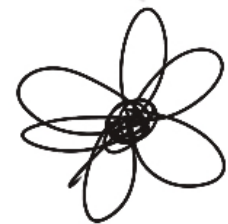

Continuous Contour Line

Drawing an object continuously without picking up the pencil from the paper. The drawing will be made of one continuous line.

Blind Continuous Contour Line Drawing

Is the same as a continuous line drawing, but the artist does not look at the drawing surface, only at the found object.

Dry Brushing

Apply the pen brush quickly to the paper to give a textured effect allowing some of the paper to show through.
