

Felcana

GRAPHIC DESIGN INTERN

Felcana is a disruptive pet tech start-up that tracks the health and behaviour of cats and dogs. Along with helping owners to better understand their pets, Felcana provides reliable insights that empower vets to make earlier and more accurate diagnoses.

We are an inventive and fast-paced team that is always striving to grow both professionally and personally. We believe in being constantly challenged and we cultivate this attitude through autonomy, responsibility and open discussions. We are seeking talented individuals that share our enthusiasm and drive to help build the future.

THE ROLE

We're looking for a graphic design intern to join our team to assist in all creative processes such as UI/UX development, design for print, digital design for web and app, and branding elements. You will assist our design team in preparing and executing design aspects for our product launch whilst getting valuable first-hand experience within the creative industry.

Send us your CV along with a brief description to careers@felcana.com. Include "[Graphic design intern]" in the subject without the quotes