BRIGHT IDEA

Nothing creates an atmospheric glow like lamplight and this new design by Alexander Joseph is cordless, so it can be moved around to create an inviting scene. We love the idea of illuminating a garden table while eating outside. Lamps are British-made with ceramic or glass bases in a choice of jewel hues; you can use them for 52 hours before recharging. Prices from £1,380.

DREAM WEAVER

Luxury rug designer Luke Irwin has launched an exclusive diffusion range in collaboration with John Lewis & Partners. Priced from £1,800, the 11 rugs are hand-knotted using his signature traditional technique and made with a unique dyeing process that leaves a small proportion of the sari silk undyed to give each rug a brilliant, unexpected shot of colour.

FEATURE LAURA VINDEN

SHOP TALK

Creating harmonious spaces through seemingly clashing colour and pattern combinations is renowned interior designer Penny Morrison's calling card. Now Penny and her fabric showroom The Fabric Collective have moved into an expanded space across three floors at 9 Langton Street, Chelsea. As well as browsing fabrics and wallpapers from Penny and other leading designers, you can explore the basement full of colourful treasures and two floors of room designs displaying bespoke and one-off items picked up by Penny on her travels.

TWO'S COMPANY

For the first time since its founding in 1851, heritage potter Burleigh is featuring another designer's work. The exquisite patterns of Ralph Lauren, with his peony, vine and star motifs (available in indigo blue or faded black), appear on plates, bowls and serving pieces. Shown is the Garden Vine bowl in Black, £150, and Garden Vine salad plate in Indigo, £34.
