

MAIN BEDROOM (below from left) Beside a Lulu Irwin rug is a sofa covered in Marisol Cuevas 'Kansas' fabric, in the main colourway, from Colefax and Fowler. DRESSING ROOM (bottom left) The cupboards in this room, which leads into the main bathroom, are lined with a Robert Kime ikat

SPARE ROOM (above right and opposite) Douglas Watson Studio supplied the tiles for the unusual fireplace. On the floor is an antique kilim. The bedside table is from Christopher Hobell
 —
 Zoe Probstall: zoeprobstall.com
 Charline Brown: charlinebrown.com

DELECTING ROOM In this room, a "Nightingale" from her own home collection with a nineteenth-century library table from the New York, the top of which is covered in a hand-dyed linen by the artist. The "Nightingale" is a hand-dyed linen by the artist, which she has used to make the room, which is upholstered in a fabric by Clarence Freedman. It is on a table from the

'I wanted this room to feel calm and soothing,' says Ben of the neutral tones of the paint, fabrics and rush matting

