PATTERN NOTES
This triangular shawl is worked from the top down, beginning with a garter stitch tab. On every right side row, an increased is worked in each side of the center "spine", and on each edge. The lower edge is bound-off loosely, and then a simple crocheted edging is worked.

In the pattern sections, there are notes regarding number of Eyelet repeats. An easy way to keep track of this is by counting the double yarnovers in the center spine.
