PATTERN NOTES

Eclectic, self-patterning Easel looks amazing in the simplest stitch patterns, and the Pointillism Shawl demonstrates that so well. The shawl gets its name from the kaleidoscope of colors and patterning, created by our cool, creative Easel yarn. Lightweight and drapey, you'll love how easy it is to make a statement out of such a simple pattern!

This shawl is worked on the bias. It begins at the tip and increases to the widest edge. It features a garter stitch border along all edges but is primarily stockinette stitch. It makes the most out of a single skein of sock yarn. You can make this shawl larger or smaller very easily, as it is a two-row repeat. Simply work until you reach about ½" less than your desired length, making sure you allow yourself enough yarn to work the garter stitch border.
