

711399 Knossos

Limited Quantity of 1000

This handsome bull was inspired by the Leaping Bull Fresco at the Palace of Knossos in Crete, which dates back to 1450 BCE. The beautifully-restored artwork features three figures engaging in an activity known only as "bull leaping" but the purpose of this activity has been lost to history. Based on art styles from the period, scholars have determined that the pale figures in the fresco are women, while the darker, leaping figure, is a man.

Breyer[®]

A Horse Of My Very Own[™]