sparkling amaro soft drinks

ONDA

the wild one

Flavored seltzers can be kinda of a drag, whether you're looking for a fun soft drink on a social evening, or an easy sipper when you need a break from all the noise. That's why we took inspiration from our favorite Italian leisure drinks to make the kinds of artisanal, craft seltzers we actually want to drink.

The result is the world's most refreshing leisure soda. It's a line of botanical craft seltzers that are balanced enough to enjoy with a meal, easy-drinking enough to relax with, and dry enough to have another.

Onda is a wild and lush reimagining of our favorite Sicilian amaro, with notes of candied lemons, fresh sage, and dank salinity. Pair with olives, seafood risotto, and watching the waves roll in.

For a mixed drink, we suggest this tart, herbaceous spin on a Dark & Stormy.

4oz Casamara Club Onda
0.5oz Lemon Juice
2oz dark amaro, preferably Amaro Montenegro

Fill a chilled Collins glass with ice. Add, in layers, the lemon juice, then the Onda. Stir gently. Float the Montenegro by pouring over the back of a spoon. Serve with a straw. Garnish with orange wheel.
