August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks romance, creativity, passion. It's juicy! You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to doing what you love and enjoying what brings you pleasure. As Mercury retraces topics around your home, family, lovers, and passion projects, the pieces come together. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're being encouraged to passionately move forward in making travel plans with a lover, dreaming up ideas for a book or other artistic project, or committing to hobbies/practices that aid your spiritual growth. What do you love to do that also expands your perspective and knowledge base? You're supported in that now. You're also getting more settled now (especially if you're looking to move or have had home matters up in the air) and also able to have better communication with family members, landlords, and roommates than you have the past few months.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in publishing, spiritual study or initiation, and anything education-related return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in romance, sex, and art. A lot happening in regard to inspiration, momentum on projects or hobbies, and romantic developments. You have some speed and force behind you, especially since throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving your friends, lovers, or wider community is likely, perhaps with something to celebrate together.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights friendships and community associations. Lovers, people you're dating, and your kids (if you have them) feature too. It's a juicy time of fun or a major revelation, yet there is also a financial challenge to be faced. It could manifest as actually money topics to address or perhaps just self-worth and what you believe you're worthy of. If you make money off your art in some way, there's a push to work through block in this area. Similarly if who you choose to date is in any way draining you of confidence or cash. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in business and finance. You can earn more and advance at work. Your health is supported too and taking action. We also have fire trine supporting your publishing projects, travel plans, and any moves to get beyond your comfort zone into realms that stretch your mind or spirit (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in work and health. You are now in an excellent position set new goals in workplace, side hustles, and daily routines. Making more money, being more efficient, and taking better care of yourself are astrologically supported so make extra time for that.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

TAURUS

TAURUS

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks a fresh start in your living situation, with roommates, or family relationships. This means you can set intention for fresh patterns or a larger change in circumstance. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to relating to the important people in your life and even making more money or caring for your home in ways that make you feel more secure and rooted. As Mercury retraces your communication sector, so a lot of pieces come together now. You can finally get your point across more clearly and anything you need to negotiate with others or rely on them for can finally move forward at a better pace. It's a really good time for journaling and introspection. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're supported in taking action toward getting financially secure, comfortable, and rooted in both your physicality and your intuitive/ancestral gifts. You're having lots of important ideas and conversations that you'll act on later in the month and September. Pay attention!

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in finances return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. Paying down debt, strengthening investments, buying real estate - this is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. It could also mean learning more about your ancestry and getting connected to that, or cultivating psychic gifts. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in home, family, and roommate dynamics. A lot happening in moving, repairing your physical space, or simply needing to communicate with family members or people you live with. Good time to clear up mis-communications that happened last month too, or to get going on home repairs or a housing search. Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing career or reputation scenario is likely and it could be a high-pressure week in work, career decisions, or personal branding. Anything you do is extra visible now, so be mindful of that and use it for good.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights career progress and your reputation. There is also an interesting development in home and family-related matters and an overall push to progress in decision-making in the major areas of your life. This could be about independence vs dependence with family members, and how autonomous or involved you want to be, or stepping out more fully as yourself, bringing your work and personal persona's into better alignment. There might a bump in the road in one of these areas, or just high demands, but making the effort to solve challenges and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in exploring enjoyment and personal expression. Make time for art making, parties, dating, and sensual pleasure (a specialty of yours!) We also have fire trine supporting your money making and security goals (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in sex, dating, and art. There's a big focus now on doing what you actually enjoy, feeling good, and being flirtatious. Enjoy it!

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

GEMINI

GEMINI

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks vibrant communication, new ideas, and opportunities for weekend trips. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to travel, journaling, thinking positively, and your relationships with siblings. As Mercury retraces its steps, your power becomes massively amplified. Not only is your ruler finally direct, but a lot of personal, relationship, and finance matters can finally become clear and move forward. A combination of patience and action pays off now as your ruler Mercury gathers speed. You're being encouraged to passionately move forward in your most important relationships. Flirtation, creativity, brainstorming, and communication in general is more passionate, exciting and fun, especially with romantic partners, best friends, business partners, and even clients or your healers you work with one-on-one. You're pulling together your new aesthetic and personal inspirations to take bold strides there later in the month and September.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in your most important relationships returns so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Your aim is to align with the relationships, romantic and otherwise, that make your world bigger, bring you joy, and (most importantly) support your own expansion. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in pending dialogue, emails and texts you're waiting on, and any events unfolding with siblings or neighbors. Your thoughts and inboxes are busy and require multitasking (which luckily you're great at.) Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving your education or travel plans, or any kind of spiritual mentorship, is likely. Your communication sector is all lit up, so especially toward the end of this week be sure your words and what you put out there on social media is what you genuinely want to be visible. It will be seen.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights your long-term vision for growth and expansive ideas in general. You might be celebrating a publishing project or other intellectual accomplishment, or perhaps bring closure to a phase of your spiritual or philosophical development (or related relationships.) Beware: there is potentially explosive impact on communication this week. Your deeper fears or old patterning could surface in thoughts and conversation. This could be a pull toward an old addiction or a desire to communicate from a more shadowy place. This isn't inherently bad because it's an opportunity to make something conscious. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Just beware of desires to communicate harshly because you might regret them. It's an excellent time for journaling, therapy, and talking to people you trust. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in dealing with practical matters. You can make progress in making your home and family life more aligned and supportive, or can lean on those close to you as you take supportive action on your own mental health or personal challenges. We also have a fire trine supporting passionate, joyful, and juicy relationship interaction (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Dialogue flows, as does the opportunity to take a quick vacation with someone you care about. You can also have great therapy or healing sessions, or build stronger relationships with your own clients. Spend some time journaling on what you've learned about personal relationship dynamics since last November! Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in your home life and family dynamics. Home care, repair, and social gatherings in your space are supported now.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

CANCER

CANCER

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks prosperity and self-love. It's time to commit to your body, your wallet, and even your favorite possessions by enjoying what you love and treating it with care. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to earning more money or buying beautiful clothes or decor. This also boosts self-esteem and helps you to be loving toward yourself. As Mercury retraces its steps, the pieces start to come together, especially around personal life decisions or relationships questions. A combination of patience and action pays off now as Mercury gets back up to speed. You're hugely supported in upping your income, getting a raise, or improving your health in some way, you'll just need to get in gear and take the catalyzing actions. You're pulling together your new aesthetic and personal inspirations to take bold strides later in the month and in September.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in the workplace and in health matters return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. You could, for example, get a better job, get a raise, or cultivate a lucrative side-hustle. There are also blessings lent toward your health and well-being, as well as organizational habits. Upgrading your tech would be supported too, especially from mid-month onward. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in finances and self-esteem. You can finally move forward and see more progress in these areas. Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving personal finances, debt, or real estate is likely. It's a good time to see what needs to be done and take ownership of anything that's fallen by the wayside. It's also an illuminating time intuitively and the type of full moon that has you full of energy and information.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights finances as well as your deeper relationships. The spotlight is on those who support you the most and what can bring you security. A challenge arises between you and a friend, or perhaps an organization or group, around how much you should be paid or having your worth honored. Maybe you just need to ask for what you want? Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in networking, socializing, getting your thoughts down on paper. Communication is inspired and flowing, and you can use this to make new friends or meet someone unexpectedly (most likely in your own neighborhood or somewhere familiar). We also have fire trines supporting major progress in work and health (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). If you take action, you can improve finances or employment circumstances, and/or get in a more solid self-care routine. Find some joy in these things, too, for best results. Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in your thought process, perspective, and daily communications. Good time to clear text, email, or contact list clutter. You'll also want to speak/write your intentions very clearly!

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

LEO

LEO

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. This is your new moon and it's a beautiful one! You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to your allure, aesthetics, personal magic, and autonomy. Your relationships get a boost too. You can charm absolutely anyone now and developments in romance are likely. As Mercury retraces its steps, pay attention to your dreams; they'll have a lot of information for you. Automatic writing, therapy, good sleep hygiene -- employ the tools that help you be better connected to yourself and well-cared for so that the mysteries of the retrograde can finally be illuminated. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're being encouraged to passionately move forward in dating, sex, art-making, and pursuing your passions. Action is magic now, especially if it is pleasurable and exciting. This is a beautiful time to do what you love and know that's enough of a reason to give it space.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in romance, creativity, and parenting (if applicable) return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. The astrology encourages you to engage with what you love and to be fearless in experimenting with your personal expression. You can go on some great dates, find a new hobby you love, or enjoy the creation process more than usual. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in relationship status and decisions, as well as a burst of communication and clarity. Anything delayed over the past few months is likely to move forward now and your own spellwork, words, and actions are extra effective. You're also likely to be quite busy especially since throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving a romantic partnership (could be any important person in your life, really) is likely. This could be closure, a change in relationship status, or just an especially passionate time in your connections.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights important relationships, as well as your personal relationship philosophy in general. Climax in an ongoing situation involving a romantic partnership (could be any important person in your life, really) is likely. This could be closure, a change in relationship status, or just an especially passionate time in your connections.

There is also an interesting development relating to your career path or reputation and an opportunity to put yourself and your work out there in the world. This might come through challenge though! Don't let that deter you. An overall push to progress in the most important areas of your life is felt this week! Career, home, partnership, self-development -- take obstacles that arise as an opportunity to conquer. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

VIRGO

VIRGO

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon is a behind-the-scenes affair. Pay attention to your dreams, passing thoughts, subtle omens, and even your fears. Everything is talking to you. This is when you commit to getting the core components of support for your well-being in place, in preparation for your upcoming Virgo season. If you need to vanquish an addiction or take a fresh approach with your mental health, this is the perfect new moon for that. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to healing and updating your sense of self-worth. As Mercury retraces its steps, you're likely to hear from friends and colleagues, and have additional opportunities to network. Any miscommunications with friends or people in your wider networks can get resolved more effectively now.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. It's your home life that's blessed -- family, foundation, your home itself. Gaining a more solid and luxurious foundation in the world financially and socially is possible for you now. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th especially if you are paying close attention to your dreams, doing automatic writing, or spending time daydreaming and letting the pieces come together. A lot is happening in your inner life, and perhaps at work too, as the pace picks up again, especially since throughout this week we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. For you, this is especially pronounced. Amplified responsibilities and need for body maintenance are featured (or just an overwhelmingly busy schedule) so make an effort to incorporate downtime and/or extra support. Clarity, climax, or closure in an ongoing work or health situation is likely now.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights work, health, and organizational processes. There is also an interesting development in publishing-related, education, or travel plans. You can make progress on getting over fears that hold you back and out of a rut (via action) but also be mindful of sharing stream-of-consciousness on social media, for example, as you may be broadcasting a level of your inner world you'll later regret sharing. There's an overall push to better your life strategies day-to-day, and to make more of your various work hustles. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Being conscious of your thoughts, working with them, and spending time journaling will help. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in taking steps toward your more expansive dreams and plans. You can progress in education, spiritual, or publishing matters. Get out of your comfort zone to move toward closer alignment with your ideals and seek ways to get your message out into the world (or to learn info and skills to help you do that.) We also have fire trines supporting your growth in healing old wounds to create a stronger sense of safety and place (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon is YOUR new moon and time to celebrate! Fresh intention for your whole being and your most important relationships is your focus now. Aesthetics, personal presentation, and your spellwork are extra potent now.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

LIBRA

LIBRA

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks a revitalized social life and stronger allegiance to your values. If you've been wanting to network, meet more people, or get more active in working in support of causes you care about, this moon is on your side. August is a social month for you so enjoy it. Even a fresh start in navigating bureaucracy, banking, or the government is possible; the Leo New Moon helps you be bold and address what needs to be done, bureaucratically or otherwise. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to meeting new people of quality for love or money. As Mercury retraces your houses of career and personal networks, the pieces come together around your public image and projects, and how you can work with or build community to support that. If you've been rebranding, refining your life mission, or waiting on some publicity, a breakthrough comes now. It's a combination of patience and action that will pay off as Mercury gets back up to speed. Helpful connections, messages, opportunities, conversations, and introductions abound this week. You're also straightening out friendship or bureaucratic miscommunication that might have sprung up over the retrograde. You'll be making strides on that throughout August by reaching out to helpful people and saying yes to opportunities connect with others.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in communication, sibling relations, daily ritual, and even just having positive experiences in your own neighborhood (finding a penny on the ground or making a new friend while walking the dog, etc) return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. Journaling, drafting ideas, using emails and texts effectively - your words are blessed and perhaps you've had some time since Jupiter stationed retrograde in April to think about how you want to use them. This is especially true for your thoughts too. This is an excellent time to start or amp up anything that harnesses the power of your own thoughts or neural pathways in general. Make the most of Jupiter's influence now that you've learned from the efforts you began last fall, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in friendships or partnerships with larger organizations. A lot happening socially especially since throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving friends or professional connections is likely.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights exactly this! What truly inspires you and can come only from you, that genuinely makes your heart sing, and how can you bring that to your community. Also, who in your circles can help you have more fun and feel free to express yourself, or support your creative pursuits? There is also an interesting development in money matters and overall push to progress in areas of finance, self-worth, and security-related goals. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas, and to work with longevity in mind, will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action versus a quick fix, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in handling the real sh*t that needs to get done. Money, mental health, working with old fears or addictions in new ways, receiving messages from your dreams and ancestors -- it's all grounded and supported and helping you get fully reading for Libra Season (just one month from now!) We also have fire trine energy supporting your growth in your expression as an articulate, social, connected, and busy babe (similar themes to the beginning of the month!) This isn't a time to be shy. Say or write what needs to be said and be brave about meeting new people or following up with someone new and promising. Note the progress you've made thus far this month and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in your approach to your overall health and well-being, mental health in particular. Old ghosts become allies when you embrace even your anxieties and fears.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

SCORPIO

SCORPIO

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks greater ambition, influence, and fame. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to publicity, branding and rebranding, and relating to bosses, mentors, and influential people. As Mercury retraces its steps, the pieces come together in career ambitions as well as education-related endeavors. Anything that has you thinking big and ambitiously expanding can finally get some momentum and move forward after recent delays. A combination of patience and action pays off now as Mercury is still getting back up to full speed. You're being encouraged to passionately move forward in getting your money up, claiming more self-worth and authority, and being seen as successful and/or capable. You're preparing to take bold strides later in the month and in September as well in career or education (or a combo of the two).

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in money making, self-care, and finding nice things to buy return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in reputation, life mission, and professional advancement. Some developments in your more ambitious plans are likely, especially anything that felt stalled by the retrograde. Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation pertaining to your home, family, roommates, or career-related matter is likely. You might be feeling to work-life balance (whatever that is!) tension more than usual this week. If you've had issues to deal with in your living space or home life, now might be the time.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights your home life and family. There is also an interesting development in a work collaboration or, perhaps even more likely, with a competitor. If you have a nemesis, they might pop up now. An overall push to progress in the most important areas of your life is felt this week! Career, home, partnership, self-development -- take obstacles that arise as an opportunity to conquer. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in all of your relationships, from spouse to acquaintance. This is a time when you can build new relationships and meet supportive people, or simply get a stronger footing in the relationships you already have. We also have a fire trine supporting your growth in wealth and professional power (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in your social circles and professional networks, as well as any social justice-related work you do.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

SAGITTARIUS

SAGITTARIUS

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks movement and possibility for your most visionary plans. Anything that involves sharing your message with the world, traveling to new places (within or without), or furthering spiritual and educational goals is supported now. It's not only about achieving things out in the world but about your own personal expansion and growth, so use this time to read new books or attend classes, or to simply spend time with ideas and topics that widen your perspective and deepen your engagement. You're also gaining more momentum in and clarity around your finances to take bold strides there later in the month and September.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease return in full so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. Your overall mission? To be your biggest, fullest self and bust out of any constraints keeping you on too small a playing field. This is about coming into your own, being seen, and also upleveling in the partnerships you choose. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in education, travel, and publishing. You're now in a much better position to share your message with the world and to take steps toward more expansive long-term visions. A lot is happening to get you out of your comfort zone into more exciting territory, likely in the form of messages sent and received (communication finally begins to flow again!) We also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon and for you, the communication sectors are highlighted. Your mind and your inbox will be quite active, so important to remember there's some added emotional charge, plus a bit of a spotlight on your words and choices. Just choose wisely and you should be fine.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights communication, siblings, and your home neighborhood. You're likely to receive definitive news or be wrapping up a project. There is also an interesting development in your work life and some pressure to make decisions. It's time to take action on pending communications, resolving work or health challenges, or getting your big ideas down on paper/into reality. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in work and money. You'll have fewer challenges (so possibly less motivation) and more ease in things like securing a raise, having your good work get noticed, or getting into solid production routines. We also have fire trine supporting your more expansive ideas and goals - it's a great moment to take steps to go back to school, to teach or write, or to undertake more committed study in a meaningful discipline (similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in career, fame, ambition. You're supported in dreaming bigger and undertaking life-changing plans now. Align with your true mission.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

CAPRICORN

CAPRICORN

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon is a fresh financial start. Savings, paying down debt, getting a better handle on financial plan - these are all topics that have been highlighted recently and now you can set fresh intent there. The same is true for intuition, psychic skills, and connecting with your ancestry. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to saving money or getting grants/loans. As Mercury retraces its steps, the pieces come together, especially in regard to relationship developments and decisions. You have more clarity about and better communication with your romantic and business partners, as well as clients or even your therapist. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're supported in taking action that really support your well-being, especially anything mental health or finance related. If bad habits or addictions have been getting in the way of your overall stability, this is a great time to seek support.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall. For you, this has been a very internal influence. Jupiter is protecting you and guiding you to do the deeper internal work that will allow you to fully shine come November when Jupiter enters your sign. On one hand, Jupiter might be putting a magnifying glass on self-sabotage or doubt, yet on the other it's bringing so much opportunity for healing. It's a great time for therapy, doing dream work, shamanic work, or anything that helps you access the more liminal spaces within yourself. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in finance and general intuitive hits as well. You'll also see more movement with grant applications or benefactors in general. It's a great time to connect with those who can really support you in material, practical ways. Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax in an ongoing situation involving your finances, or just a more stark awareness of what needs to be done, is likely. Self-worth and money are the hot topics now.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights what you own, what you earn, and how you care for yourself. There is also an interesting development with a lover or your creative work, especially where money overlaps with those topics, and it is likely to present as a challenge. This is one of the more tense aspects of the month and it gives you an overall push to handle money matters as well as a recent relationship issue (with a lover or friend). Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in your art, creativity, and big ideas. The stars aid in working steadily away at an academic or creative project. You're also likely to feel more at ease in a romance or sexual relationship and if you happen to be traveling with/to someone you love now, even better! We also have fire trines supporting your healing and growth, especially around money matters or ancestral trauma (similar themes to the beginning of the month.) Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in your most expansive visions, especially if they're related to teaching, learning, or seeing more of the world.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

AQUARIUS

AQUARIUS

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon sparks love, romance, connection, or a fresh outlook on relationships in general. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially when it comes to affection, love, and deepening close connections with people of similar values. As Mercury retraces its steps, the pieces come together around work projects, health, and organization in general. You're finally free of major delays and tech bugs too. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're taking the actions needed to get your act together in work and health so you can then take bold strides there later in the month and September. There's also support for prioritizing and revitalizing relationships of all kinds; socialize, connect, and enjoy. Passion/romance spark up too.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck and power return to you in areas such as: building community, expanding your networks and friend groups, and connecting more deeply with the social justice issues that are important to you. It's time to recommit to maximizing these areas of life so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from your attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in your most important relationships, as well as revelations and clarity. A lot happening interpersonally for you, especially since throughout this week we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. Climax or closure in an important relationship, or an opportunity to assert your own independence, is likely.

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. The Full Moon puts the spotlight right on you! And it specifically highlights your most important relationships, raising emotions and stakes with your true partners in this life. It's a time for celebration and excitement, although be aware there's an accompanying challenging aspect that brings a challenge at home or in an important relationship, especially likely if you have a domestic partner. It's nothing that's not solvable, but the atmosphere will be a bit more tense. You'll want to find an outlet for any personal stress and not pick a fight with a partner, family member, or roommate. An overall push to progress in the most important areas of your life is felt this week! Career, home, partnership, self-development -- take obstacles that arise as an opportunity to conquer. Making the effort to solve challenges in these areas and to work with longevity in mind will definitely pay off. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in building comfort and security. Saving money, getting financial advice, investing in beautifying your home -- anything that make you feel more grounded and safe gets a boost now. We also have fire trines enlivening all your relationships; it's an incredible time to network, socialize, reach out to helpful, like-minded people, or let a friend into you to someone cute (these are similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in finances, as well as gut instincts. It's time to focus on what will bring you long-term satisfaction and security.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.

PISCES

PISCES

August 1-7th is all about FIRE.

We have the Leo New Moon lighting the way and Mercury newly direct. For you, the Leo New Moon is a new beginning in work and health. You can set intention for a new job or renewed commitment to daily actions that keep you well, or overhauling your systems and routines. You have Venus supporting your growth here now, too, so the positive influence is that much stronger, especially for things like getting a raise or lucratively revamping systems and routines. As Mercury retraces its steps, the pieces come together in romance and art. Lovers' intentions become clearer, your ideas flow returns, and communication flows better with collaborators of all kinds. A combination of patience and action pays off now. You're being encouraged to passionately move forward in your work life too! You're supported in making big career moves and actioning new plans.

August 8-14th

You can feel Jupiter Direct! The mission you began in November 2018 has been slowed down, this summer especially but since April overall, and this is when your luck, power, and ease in career, fame, and reputation return so you can finish strong between now and November 2019. This is your time to make the most of Jupiter's influence because you've learned from the attempts and progress thus far, revisited your strategy, and now can move more fully forward. This is a time for you to be ambitious, seen, and more aligned with your life mission (or the actions that lead you to it). Mercury back into Leo further illuminates events from June 27th-July 18th and brings quick developments in work, health, and tech. Delayed projects, missing correspondence, and organizational obstacles are dissolving now. In their place? Newfound clarity on how to optimize your day-to-day routines and processes. Throughout this week, we also feel the intensity of the approaching full moon. For you, this is especially pronounced. Amplified anxieties or excess psychic tension are possible (or just an overwhelmingly busy schedule) so make an effort to incorporate downtime and/or extra support. Write your dreams down this week!

August 15-21st

The Aquarius Full Moon peaks the morning of August 15th EDT. The Leo-Aquarius axis is about our personal expression and where it overlaps with the needs of the collective. For you, the Full Moon highlights mental health, overall well-being, and messages you receive in your dreams. Get rest, sleep, nourishment, and stress relief because, while there's lots of great astrology, it's quite energetically intense. There is also an interesting work or health-related development. Tech, contracts, decisions, and agreements can finally move forward and many missing pieces of support or info will start to drop in now. You gain momentum by communicating with colleagues and those with whom you have a common cause, especially by making the effort to solve challenges with longevity in mind. Capitalize on the awareness cultivated in June and July to take more strategic action, even if it will take longer to complete overall.

August 22-31st

This week we really feel the grounding into EARTH ENERGY, climaxing with the Virgo New Moon on the 30th. The Sun into Virgo on the 23rd brings a new season and the back-to-school energy we associate with Virgo, that of getting organized, hands-on, and in do-er mode. We get down to business now. And we have gorgeous earth trines supporting us in doing that! For you, you're especially supported in relationship communication and development. Ease and grounding are in place for dialogue, ritual, or a shared getaway with a romantic, business, or friendship partner. This aspect is also supportive for therapy or other healing sessions. We also have fire trines supporting your growth in taking your career to the next level, so long as necessary actions are taken on your part (these are similar themes to the beginning of the month!). Note the progress you've made and be bold in continuing to take action. Then, the Virgo New Moon brings rebirth in relationship. This is a fresh start in your most important partnerships or, perhaps most importantly, in your approach to satisfying relationship and how you seek it. Share more of yourself to feel more connected.

Overall this month provides a welcome break from the more challenging astrology and offers us luck, fun, passion, and the drive to accomplish some of the things we've been talking and thinking about for months. Enjoy the ride and make your mark.
