Spring Gardening Tips

From Green with Envie

Time for Spring Cleaning! Whether you are simply cleaning up, giving your yard a new do, or installing new landscape, spring is the ideal time for this. And always remember, if your landscape contractor tells you that your landscape is no maintenance, please note there is no such thing!

First things first, check your irrigation and ensure your timer clock is set for the proper time and days (www.lvrvwd.com). Also, make sure your irrigation is working properly and there are no leaks. Check all emitters to ensure they are not clogged, and the water is flowing. If you have a fertigation system, it too should be looked over and filled with fresh fertilizer.

Next is everyone's favorite—weeds—well maybe not everyone's. It is tedious, but oh so necessary and when done you will most definitely be surprised at the transformation that occurs. Hand pull or carefully spray a glyphosate product such as Roundup on any weeds that have emerged. If you would like to use a natural non-selective weed control, then try using a vinegar or citrus oil-based product.

Spring is also the optimum time for pruning. Pruning should only be done if the branch size is less than 10 centimeters. If a branch exceeds 10 centimeters, do so if you really have a good reason, but remember it might interfere with the growth of the whole tree. It is advisable to trim a tree during the spring and summer season when little growth is taking place. Only prune weak and preferably v-shaped branches and retain u-shaped strong branches, which are depended upon by the entire tree for balance and photosynthesis.

Follow this trimming technique: Identify branch collar located at the bottom base of the stem. Cut down, outside and away from both the branch bark ridge so as not to interfere with the branch collar. Do so for both dead and living branches.

EDITOR'S PICKS

Radical Pan

The Radical Pan solves common cooking struggles with a radical new design. The lip of the sauté pan has an extended height on one side forming a backboard that makes it easy to flip food with a spatula against it, or you can shake the pan and flip the food around with the ease of a professional chef. It can be used to cook anything from a rustic pie to vegetables on the grill, omelets, and more. The pan's patented design and nonstick surface reduce the need for added fats to prevent sticking, and the nonstick coating has been tested safe by the FDA, SGS, and NSF. The pan is also oven and dishwasher safe, but usually it can just be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Byrna HD

What makes Byrna HD such a great self-defense product? The Byrna HD is not a firearm, but a powerful non-lethal device. Byrna HD is CO2-powered, meaning it doesn't require any licensing to own. It delivers a powerful combination of pepper spray and tear gas up to 60 feet away by firing chemical irritant rounds that burst and disable the threat on impact, without taking a life. The highly potent combination of active chemical irritants found in many pepper sprays and military-grade tear gas act immediately, incapacitating the target. This means, families can have their Byrna HD stored safely, and within arm's reach, should a situation require it. It instantly disarms the intruder. It does NOT cause any casualties or serious harm. It also provides the gift of time, allowing the homeowner to call 911 and authorities to arrive on the scene.

Byrna HD Ready Kits are available in 7-colors and come in a protective, zippered carrying case with everything you need to get started.
