

Bell-Birds

for SSA unaccompanied

Words by Henry Kendall

Music by Colin Brumby

Tranquillo $\bullet = 63$ mp simile

S (1)By chan-nels of cool-ness the ech-oes are call-ing, And down the dim maid-en of bright yel-low tress-es, Loit-ers for sit, look-ing back to a child-hood, Mixed with the

S (1)By chan-nels of cool-ness the ech-oes are call-ing, And down the dim
maid-en of bright yel-low tress-es, Loit-ers for
sit, look-ing back to a child-hood, Mixed with the

A (1)By chan-nels of cool-ness the ech-oes are call-ing, And down the dim maid-en of bright yel-low tress-es, Loit-ers for
sit, look-ing back to a child-hood, Mixed with the

4

gorg-es I hear the creek fall-ing; It lives in the mount-ain where moss and the love in these cool wil-der-ness-es; Loit-ers, knee-deep, in the grass-es to sights and the sounds of the wild-wood, Long-ing for power and the sweet-ness of

gorg-es I hear the creek fall-ing; It lives in the mount-ain where moss and the
love in these cool wil-der-ness-es; Loit-ers, knee-deep, in the grass-es to
sights and the sounds of the wild-wood, Long-ing for power and the sweet-ness of

gorg-es I hear the creek fall-ing; It lives in the mount-ain where moss and the
love in these cool wil-der-ness-es; Loit-ers, knee-deep, in the grass-es to
sights and the sounds of the wild-wood, Long-ing for power and the sweet-ness of