Assembly Instructions

1. Take the smaller front section of pouch (b) with the rough side facing you
2. Thread the small rubber strap (g) through one of the centre holes in the pouch starting from the side facing you and then looping back through the other hole so you have two loose ends the same length on the front side
3. Attach the larger bag closure button (f) over both the loose ends of the strap and push down until secure

4. Now take the larger back section of the pouch (a) with the smoother inside side facing you
5. Place the smaller front section (b) over the back section (a) so the holes on both line up.
6. Now take the shorter weaving strap (d) and thread through the top hole on the right of the bag starting from the back and threading through to the front.
7. Once you have approximately 2cm of strap pulled through, re thread through the same hole repeating from back to front.
8. Now take the other end of the strap and threading from front to back, continue to join the two sections together working in a clockwise direction around the bag making sure not to twist the thread as you go round.
9. Thread the final hole twice like you did on the other side.
10. Tuck the excess strap under the already woven strap to hide neatly. Cut off any excess. Repeat on the other side.
11. Now take larger main strap (c) and thread through one of the smaller adjustment buttons (e) until you have around 15cm of strap pulled through.
12. Take the bag in your hands and thread the main strap through the 2nd hole from the top on the bag, threading from back to front. Pull around 15cm of the strap through and thread back through the adjustment button you previously attached to the strap to form a loop.
13. Now do the same on the other side of the bag. Use the adjustment buttons to adjust the length of strap to fit.
14. Your bag is complete
