Personal Data Privacy (customer consent)

G B Flint Coachworks is committed to protecting the privacy and security of your personal data. This notice explains how we use any personal data about you, in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR).

Data Protection Principals.

The GDPR sets out that personal data we hold about you must be:

- Used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way.
- Collected only for valid purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes.
- Relevant to the purpose we have told you about and limited to those purposes.
- Accurate and kept up to date.
- Kept only as long as is necessary for the purposes we have told you about.
- Kept securely.

The kind of data we hold about you.

Personal data means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. We collect, store and use the following types of personal data about you:

- Personal contact details such as name, title, address, telephone numbers, email address.
- Your credit card details / bank details (if provided).
- Your insurance claim details (if our work is part of an insurance claim).
- Your vehicle information (make, model, registration number and VIN number).
- Your proof of identity (driving licence).
- Your image on security CCTV around our site of if captured while photographing your vehicle.
- Your communications with us, including recorded telephone calls, and any feedback you provide.

How your personal data is collected.

- From you directly either verbally or written or,
- From your insurance company or,
- Your fleet manager or,
- From your accident management company.

Some personal data may, where lawful to do so, or within your consent, be collected by us from third parties (e.g. DVLA to check your driving licence when driving one of our courtesy vehicles).

How we use the information about you.

We will only use your personal data when the law allows us to in the following circumstances:

- Where we need to perform our services to / for you.
- Where we need to comply with a legal obligation.
- Where necessary for legitimate interests pursued by us or a third party, and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests. For instance, your insurance company.

Change of purpose.

We will only use your personal data for the purpose for which we collected it. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent where this is required or permitted by law.

Automated decision making.

We do not use any automated decision-making processes using your personal data.

Data sharing.

We will share your data with third parties and other service providers where it is necessary to perform our services to / for you or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so, or where required by law.

We require third parties to respect the security of your data and treat it in accordance with the law. We may transfer your personal data outside the European Economic Area (EEA). If we do, you can expect the same degree of protection in respect of your personal data as to that provided within the UK.

“Third parties” include third-party service providers (including contractors and designated agents). The following third parties process personal data about you for the purposes shown.

Third Party	Data Processing Purpose

We may also need to share your personal data with a regulator or to otherwise comply with the law.

Data security.

All third parties are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal data. We only permit third parties to process your personal data for specified purposes in accordance with our instructions, and not for their own purposes.

We have security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. We limit access to your personal data to only those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality. If we suspect that a data breach has occurred, we will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

Data retention – how long we will use your data for.

We only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting or reporting requirements and this will usually be a maximum of 7 years.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you.

Your rights of access, correction, erasure and restriction.

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data (“data subject access”). To receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. You can have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.
- Request erasure of your personal data. You can ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us to continue to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have exercised your right to “object to processing” (see below).
- Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your situation which makes you want to object to processing on this basis. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal data. You can ask us to suspend the processing of personal data about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal data to another party. If you want us to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal data, object to the processing of your personal data or request that we transfer a copy of your personal data to another party, please contact us in writing. We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a method of security to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.
- Right to withdraw consent. Where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal data for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact us directly. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have a legitimate basis for doing so in law.

What if you don't provide personal data?

Please note that you are under no obligation to provide us with your personal data, but not providing certain data could prevent us from providing our services to you, or we may be prevented from complying with our legal obligations.

If you have any questions about this privacy notice, please contact us directly.

Data Processing authority.

I authorise my personal data to be processed in accordance with the preceding notice and understand that my personal data cannot be used for any other purpose without additional written authority from myself.
