

The Native Shop invites you to sell your products in our online store - www.nativeshop.com.au

How it works:

- » The community group/club agrees for The Native Shop to promote and sell their products on our online store www.nativeshop.com.au
- » The community group/club will provide images and details of the selected products and/or give permission for information to be taken directly off their website, which will be uploaded to The Native Shop.
- » Delivery of products to the customer will be the responsibility of the community group/club.
- » Once an order has been placed on The Native Shop, a packing slip will be generated and emailed to the community group/club to fulfill and post to the customer. The community group/club organises a tracking code to be sent to The Native Shop to input into the system to notify the customer the order has been sent.
- » The community group/club emails invoices of products sold at wholesale prices plus postage on a monthly basis to wnn@bigpond.net.au.

Who we are:

The Native Shop specialises in quality and innovative Australian products with an extensive range of Australian native plants and seeds plus a selection of books on Australian plants and the environment. Other products in the online store include a wide range of fantastic gift ideas and garden accessories.

In-store at the Wimmera Native Nursery, Dimboola they offer Australian products including Tubestock, Pots and Advanced Stock, Home/Farm Advisory Service, a wide range of Native and Exotic Plants, Guards, Stakes and Accessories.

Contact:

To discuss further or if you would like to sell your products on The Native Shop, please email sammy@econews.com.au.

PLUS - Receive a FREE Media Release promoting your products on Eco Voice - www.ecovoice.com.au

What does this mean:

- » The community group/club will email a media release to tim@carbonmarket.com.au with at least one supporting image.
- » The media release will be uploaded to Eco Voice website www.ecovoice.com.au and also feature in the monthly e-newsletter reaching tens of thousands of subscribers.
- » The article will be promoted via our various social media platforms with 100,000+ combined followers across the media assets.
- » Examples of media releases on Eco Voice can be found below.

Example 1

Example 2

Who we are:

Eco Voice was first published in 2003 and prides itself as an independent platform, providing a free channel for not-for-profits and serves as a low-cost for businesses, helping them to get their messages out to a very targeted audience.

One of the leading environmental news platforms in Australia, with tens of thousands of subscribers receiving the monthly newsletter.

Contact:

To discuss further or if you would like to sell your products on The Native Shop, please email sammy@econews.com.au.

The Process - 8 simple steps to get your products online at - www.nativeshop.com.au

Step 1:

The community group/club agrees for The Native Shop to promote and sell their products on our online store www.nativeshop.com.au.

Step 2

The community group/club provides images and details of the selected products and/or gives permission for information to be taken directly off their website (which will be uploaded to The Native Shop).

Step 3

Delivery of products to the customer will be the responsibility of the community group/club. Once an order has been placed on The Native Shop a packing slip will be emailed to the community group/club to pack and send the order to the customer.

Step 4

The community group/club organises a tracking code to be sent to The Native Shop via email (wnn@bigpond.net.au) to input into the system to notify the customer the order has been sent.

Step 5

The community group/club monitors the tracking code to ensure that delivery has been made to the Customer.

Step 6

The Native Shop emails the customer with a "Your Order has now been Shipped" message that includes the tracking code as well as links to follow us on social media platforms.

Step 7

The community group/club emails invoices of products sold and delivered at wholesale prices (including previously agreed postage charges) to The Native Shop via email (wnn@bigpond.net.au) for the previous month.

Step 8

The Native Shop reconciles the invoice with what has been sold for the previous month (with confirmed delivery) and pays the community group/club within 14 days. The community group/club is notified via email or phone of any discrepancy and discussed and resolved.

