A whimsical illustration of a meadow. In the foreground, a green hillside is covered in grass and small white flowers. A lamb with a blue and white plaid collar is running across the hill. The sky is filled with large, stylized dandelion heads and many smaller ones, suggesting a dandelion seed head has just popped. The overall style is soft and artistic.

Miles was a happy little lamb.

He lived in a meadow and ate green grass and dandelions.

Sometimes he chased the dandelions instead of eating them.

Miles liked to play with his friends. They played hide-and-peek and soccer.

Miles was pretty good at the FINDING part...

...and really good at the KICKING part!

But one day something scary happened!

Miles was so scared that he didn't know what to do.

So he shut his eyes tight,
put his hooves over his ears,
and pretended that nothing
bad had happened.
