

Brand Description:

Artis is the Latin word meaning: "skill, method, technique, conduct, character." From the way that they look, to the way that they perform, Artis brushes are designed to give you a better beauty experience. Artis is constantly innovating and striving to design products that create a better beauty experience. The culture of the organization itself is inspiring, curious and collaborative, which is beneficial not only the creative aspects of work, but to their mission to offer products that reimagine what's possible for your beauty ritual. This is a paid internship.

Job Description:

Artis is looking for dynamic, organized, positive and dependable team players to join our team to support the Artis brand. We are looking for Marketing and Brand Development interns. Opportunities with the Artis team include direct experience working on social media campaigns, assisting with PR and influencer marketing, content creation, tracking and analytics projects, brainstorming and more. Marketing/Brand Interns will work closely with the full Marketing team across all functions and support the team in overseeing projects from start to finish, ensuring that the team's objectives are met. We are interested in working with self-starters who are eager to learn about fast-growing company culture and brand development and who are social media savvy. Experience with Photoshop and InDesign is not mandatory, but a plus.

What we require:

- Must reside in New York City, or be able to commute to NYC
- You have highly developed writing, researching, and organizational skills
- Availability to work at minimum on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the fall semester (with an opportunity to add additional days)"
- You are a current college student or recent graduate with deep knowledge and passion for consumer product companies
- The willingness to support a diverse and busy staff while contributing to the collective innovation
- You love interacting with people, whether that is over the phone, email, social media or at events

If you are interested please email your resume and a little bit more about yourself to talent@artisbrush.com . We look forward to hearing from you!
