A town rich in history

Portland, Victoria; a coastal town where rugged cliffs embrace the sea. Home to the only deep-water international port in Victoria, Portland plays a pivotal role in the trade of commodities like grain, timber, and aluminium.

Elegantly preserved historic buildings grace Portland's streets, and the iconic Whalers Bluff Lighthouse, reflects its colonial and maritime history. The 19th-century architecture, featuring the Portland Town Hall, Court House, and Customs House, maintains the town's old-world allure.

Capturing the essence of place

The Portland Collection is inspired by the tones, textures and silhouettes of the rugged headlands, bays and landmarks that define this iconic region.

A palette shaped by the natural environment

Exploration of Portland's landscape has inspired an expansion of the Kett finishes. Timber stains Natural, Light Walnut, Exhibition and new 'Smoked Oak' reveal the beauty of the natural grain. New lacquers in subdued tones City, Mangrove and Ocean provide a consistent contemporary finish while retaining an echo of the grain within. The updated range of ceramics provide a durable, non-porous surface in muted colourways.

Meet the designer, Justin Hutchinson

Justin's furniture career to date has helped define some of our most loved landmarks and has been recognised internationally as well as in exhibitions such as 'Melbourne Now', presented at the National Gallery of Victoria. His experience spans almost two decades from production hand, in-house designer, lecturer and business founder, into a highly experienced Design Director. Co-founding Kett back in 2016, his portfolio of furniture celebrates local design and manufacturing, reflecting our Australian way of life.

“In a world crowded by poorly made things, it is a pleasure and a privilege to spend each day working on products that are designed to last.”

The Kett design studio

Born amongst the green surrounds of the Abbotsford Convent, Kett's Design Studio has found a new home in Brunswick, Melbourne, an area with a rich history of making, from textiles to glassware, ceramics, and brick.

Each day, Justin Hutchinson leads a talented team of designers and embraces the challenges that shape Kett's timeless furniture collections.

The team source only the highest quality materials when developing the collections, all the time striving for design that enriches the everyday.

A detailed process of refinement

Each Kett design is the result of many small innovations, producing an uncompromising level of authenticity and precision. As the Design Director at Kett, Justin and his team focus on reductionism, employing sketching, a process of paring back, and cultivating a clear direction for each piece.

Kett create furniture collections that are honest in their use of materials & united in their craft.

The Portland dining and coffee tables are made in Australia by our experienced team of local craftspeople. The Portland armchair frames are made in Italy, then stained and upholstered in Melbourne across two specialised workshops. Each piece of the Portland collection is crafted and finished by hand with exceptional attention to detail.

Made locally by hand

Kett produces furniture defined by the maker; cutting, sewing, turning and shaping materials into carefully curated forms. Kett believes that skilled craftspeople are vital to the success of the brand, as knowledge and techniques are passed from one maker to the next.

Portland Arc Dining Table

Portland Arc Dining Table

Vessels find safe anchorage as quiet bays offer protection from rough waters

Designed & Made in Australia

The Portland Arc Dining Table draws inspiration from the scenic bays found in the region. Its graceful, curved legs reflect the protection these bays offer to tall ships amidst rough waters, while the tabletop shape pays homage to the many vessels that found secure anchorage in Portland's harbor.

The Arc table features inset legs, creating ample space for guests to gather. The 320cm size accommodates up to 12, while the 280cm comfortably seats up to 10 people.

Portland Pedestal Dining Table

A tall building stands at the end of the land, shining a bright light out into the night sea

The Portland Pedestal Dining Table is a thoughtful tribute to the three prominent headlands that define the region, with three distinct sections around the base of the table. Additionally drawing inspiration from the iconic lighthouse, the table pays homage to its vital role in guiding numerous ships through the waters as they sailed around the Portland region on their way from Adelaide to Melbourne.

Portland Dining Chairs

Light is captured in lace upon the water blue as it rolls and shines, the wind lifts to turn great arms, ever persistent and infinite

Frame Made in Italy, Stained & Upholstered in Australia

The Portland Dining Chairs feature a lightweight ash frame and classic tailored details. The distinctive arm follows a smooth, single line, complemented by the gentle curves of sturdy legs. The broad, cushioned seat is supported by flexible webbing, ensuring ultimate comfort and ample support for the body.

The timber is finished in natural stains and upholstery is made to order in Melbourne in your fabric or leather of choice.

Portland Coffee Tables

Portland Coffee Tables

The shoreline collects the rise and fall of vast oceans, the rocks providing protection to the headland

Designed & Made in Australia

The Portland Coffee Tables reference the rocky outcrops that hug the shoreline, the connection and contours of the bays uniting land and ocean.

Handcrafted, the three solid oak legs result in a gentle curve that cradles a solid oak or ceramic top. Available in two heights, the curvature of the legs allows the tables to interlink, so the coffee tables present as a unified piece or a dynamic cluster of varying sizes and finishes.

Designed & Made in Australia

The Portland Arc Coffee Table draws inspiration from the scenic bays found in the region. Its graceful, curved legs reference the protection offered to ships amidst rough waters, the shape of the tabletop paying homage to the vessels that found secure anchorage in the harbor.

The Arc Coffee Table echoes the silhouette of the Arc Dining Table, featuring inset legs, rounded corner details and generously sized tabletop. The timber legs can be paired with a solid oak or ceramic top, finished in a natural stain or lacquer.
