Storytellers

SCENE 1

Storyteller 1:

I was walking through the garden one day.
It was right around a holiday.
When something caught my eye,
It was just about this high,
With a long white beard and a pointed hat,
And eyes as bright as an alley cat.
I thought to myself,
That it may have been an elf,
Or an imp, or a sprite.
So, I thought with all my might.
When I finally reached my home,
I realized I had seen a gnome!

Storyteller 2:

Have you ever met a gnome?
Well, you'd know it if you had,
'Cause they're tricky and sly,
and their jokes are bad.
But don't give up and don't despair,
for a gnome can be as cute as a teddy bear.
So, give them a chance and in the end,
you might just have a gnome for a friend.

Child 1: Look everybody! Here they come!

Gnome 6: It seems the elves are very short handed.
And because of a blizzard, the reindeer are stranded.

Gnome 7: They need us to help, so we need to go now!
Come on everyone, we'll get there somehow!

Child 12: Can we go too? Can we go with you?
Maybe there's something that we can do.

Gnome 8: I thought you didn't believe in elves.
Now you want to go help in spite of yourselves?

Child 9: Something has changed; I feel different now.
Besides I know how to drive a plow!

Storyteller 3:
It often happens on Christmas Eve,
even the doubters begin to believe.

Gnome 9: Come on right now, we must make haste.
They need our help, so we have no time to waste.

Gnomes to the Rescue

(Wait for the Wagon)

Hurry! Hurry!
Hurry ev'ryone.
We've got to help our cousins,

Rush with all your might.
We've got to reach the North Pole
and set things right.

Strong but small!

Gnomes to the rescue!
Gnomes to the rescue, one and all!
